Under-age sales may cost bar its licence

A BAR'S licence will be reviewed by council chiefs after a string of drunken incidents and staff caught selling alcohol to under-age customers.

There were 45 reported incidents at the Club Lounge in Cannock between January and February this year, including nine arrests.

And staff at the Church Street bar were caught out in a sting operation in November last year. Police and council officials swooped when workers were seen serving girls aged 15 and 17.

Managers will appear before a licensing committee at Cannock Council next Thursday, May 8.

Concern

Members will have the option to impose restrictions on the business, or even suspend or revoke the licence.

A statement by Pc David Evans of Staffordshire Police says: "The Club Lounge is giving police cause for concern in relation to the way the business is being run and how licensing objectives are being upheld."

He said a visit by licensing chiefs in September had also found there was no register for recording incidents where customers had been refused alcohol, as is standard practice, and no training records.

Anfield date for footballers

FOOTBALLERS raising cash in memory of a seven-year-old girl who died of leukaemia are to play at Liverpool's Anfield ground.

Hawkins Sports, of Cheslyn Hay, will play at the famous ground on May 24 after winning the contest run by Barclays.

Among the players are Ashley Perry, head of sport at Kingsmead Technology Collegel in Hednesford, who is raising cash for Leukaemia Research UK in memory of his cousin Ava-Mae Titley

Mother tells of agony as son dies in her arms

Tragedy – Mitch Clifton

A MOTHER told of her heartbreak at seeing her seven-year-old son die in her arms after he was knocked down by a security van while riding his scooter.

Mitchell Clifton died at the scene of the collision at the entrance to the Co-Op store car park in Landywood Lane, Cheslyn Hay.

"Mitchell was a wonderful little boy and we miss him every day," said mother Michelle, aged 40. "He was full of life and I can't put into words what myself and my family has gone through since he was taken away. I have lost my son and it has ruined my life.

"I am not the same person, he was my world and now he has been taken away.

"I feel like a part of me died as well that day. I had to watch my baby boy die in my arms, which is something no mother should have to go through. It has ripped me apart."

The Cheslyn Hay Primary School pupil, who loved football, was killed on October 3, 2012. His mother's statement was released at the conclusion of his inquest.

The inquest heard Mitchell, of High Street, would not have seen the vehicle, driven by Security Plus Limited's Paul Millington, who was turning right into the site, until it was too late.

Giving evidence at the hearing in Cannock, Mr Millington, 47, of Alsager, Cheshire, said protective metal railings on the vehicle obstructed his 'over the shoulder view'. Motorist Nigel Hayward, of Cheslyn Hay, told the hearing he saw the tragedy unfold shortly after 5.20pm.

"As the van was crossing the pavement the lad on the scooter accelerated doing a further one or two scoots," Mr Hayward said.

South Staffordshire Coroner Mr Andrew Haigh said he accepted Mr Millington did look before he drove in. He recorded that Mitch died as a result of a road traffic collision.

STEPHEN'S SUM NOW HITS £3m

INSPIRATIONAL teenager Stephen Sutton's fundraising drive has now smashed the £3 million mark – just a week after reaching its £1m goal.

The teenage cancer sufferer this week released a new 'thumbs up' photograph of himself as donations continued to flood in for his fundraising appeal. Stephen has captured the hearts of millions of people throughout the world with his inspirational fight against the disease.

The 19-year-old is currently in hospital after his condition deteriorated but he has since shown improvements after coughing up a tumour. He has been battling cancer for three years and is fundraising for the Teenage Cancer Trust.

Posting his new picture online he wrote: "One week ago I posted a 'thumbs up farewell' photo that went viral.

"As mentioned, at that point a genuinely thought I was a goner, but one week on I'm still here!

Celebrate

I feel very fortunate to be here, and every second alive feels very special!!."

Stephen said his medical team were currently discussing what to do next, but he added: "In the meantime: to celebrate still being here after this crazy week, to celebrate this wonderful journey called life, and to celebrate being part of raising over £3,000,000 for Teenage Cancer Trust... Here's a huge thumbs up from me!!!!"

Stephen had initially set out to raise £10,000 for the Teenage Cancer Trust and created a bucket list of 46 things to do before he died.

But the Burntwood teenager's story and remarkable attitude to life helped him

by Laura Blyth

smash that target, with donations flooding in. His fundraising has broken all records held by donating website JustGiving.

Premier League giants Manchester City and pop rock band Lawson are the latest to have given their support to the appeal.

City have agreed to donate proceeds from their under-21 Premier League semi-final with Chelsea at the Etihad Stadium in support of the campaign.

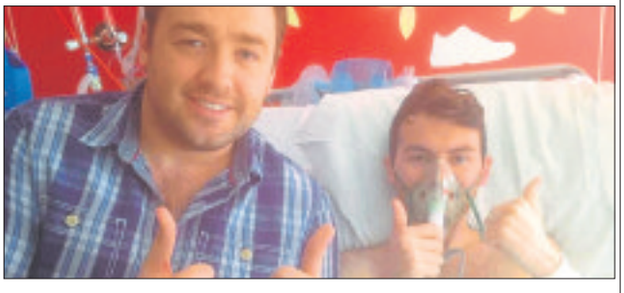
It comes as proceeds from the Lawson gig in Burnley on Sunday are also going to be donated to the appeal.

Other events being held in the Midlands to raise funds for the cause include a charity match between Shire Oak Saints under-18s and Shire Oak veterans on Sunday.

It takes place at Walsall Wood FC, Lichfield Road, from 3pm and tickets are £2 for adults and £1 for children.

Tribute band Mentallica are also performing at Tackeroo in Bracken Close, Hednesford, on Saturday night.

Doors open at 7.30pm and tickets are £5.



Thumbs-up in hospital from comic Jason Manford and Stephen Sutton

Total could go even higher

COMEDIAN Jason Manford said there is no reason why Stephen Sutton can't raise more than £5 million.

The funnyman was speaking at a one-off stand up night he hosted in honour of Stephen in Birmingham.

The comic had been to the hospital to see Stephen before heading to the gig at the Players Bar on Broad Street. It sold out in minutes and more than 300 attended.

Manford said: "There are people still hearing about his story now and going online and donating. I think it could get to £5 million or more. There's no reason for it not to. He is just amazing. He is a remarkable lad and the support he has had is unbelievable."

Manford later called Stephen while he was onstage, and joked with the 19-year-old Burntwood lad why he wasn't following him on the Twitter.

Kate Collins, director of fundraising for Teenage Cancer Trust, who was also at the gig, said: "Our main focus at the moment is to support Stephen and respond to all of his needs as well as we can."

Battle to save Ivy House forges on

CAMPAIGNERS are continuing their fight to save Cannock's Ivy House from demolition – but may only have until next week to do so.

The Wolverhampton Road building, a former workhouse and maternity unit, dates back to 1870 and could be demolished to make way for a housing development .

Developers Wrekin Housing would contribute more than £66,000 to the area if consent is granted. The matter will go before Cannock Chase Council's planning control committee next Wednesday (May 7).

Resident Margaret Price, one of those trying to preserve the Ivy House's heritage, said: "The campaign to preserve this cherished building goes on.

Urgency

"It has been reported that the Ivy House is in danger of falling foul to vandalism but this won't happen if the developers take their responsibilities seriously and begin renovation as a matter of urgency.

"For the last 18 months, despite logical, sensible proposals being put forward by the campaigners, we have been side-stepped, but we will continue to try to convince our councillors that demolition is not the answer."

Fundraiser for Newlife

AN evening of flowers and fashions is being held to raise money for a Cannock charity.

Sandon Hall in Stafford is hosting Follow Your Dream, A Tribute To Children. It will feature a demonstration by floral art expert Diana Scott MBE, followed by a sale of fashion accessories.

Organised by Stone Lions Club in aid of Newlife Foundation, it takes place on June 3. Tickets are £10 each, to include a glass of wine. Call 01785 812027.

New image of missing man released

POLICE have released a new image of a missing Rugeley man as they continue to search for him.

Stephen Greatrix has not been seen since 2pm on Easter Monday, April 21.

Officers have carried out extensive searches of Cannock Chase after they found the 45-year-old's car parked near the beauty spot.

The air support unit, dog support unit and Staffordshire Search and Rescue Team have also assisted in the search.

Chief Inspector Steve Morrey, Cannock Chase local policing team commander, said: "We have been keeping Stephen's family updated throughout our search and remain in touch with them as our inquiries continue.

"We'd like to directly appeal to anyone who uses the Chase – bike riders, dog walkers, runners and horse riders – to keep an eye out for him and contact us immediately."

Mr Greatrix, of Chaseside Drive, is white, 5ft 10ins, of slim build and he has short mousey coloured hair.

He has a tanned complexion and green eyes. It is believed he was wearing a long black sleeved top and a grey Craghoppers top when he went missing. Anyone with information should call 101.

Concerns over planned minor injuries closure

HEALTH chiefs plan to axe Cannock Hospital's minor injuries department and permanently close a general ward to plug a £17million hole in their budget.

A 12-week consultation is to be launched into the potential closure of the minor injuries unit at the Brunswick Road site.

Councillors have branded the move a knee-jerk reaction that will cause 'huge inconvenience' to patients and have launched a campaign against it.

Cannock Council leader George Adamson said he would be starting a petition. He said: "I'm really disappointed. The unit is well-used and there is no alternative in the area.

"This is just not good enough. We will campaign and we hope as many people as possible will get behind us. They say they are consulting so hopefully they will listen to what we have to say."

Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley said the closure would be a 'hammer blow' to the community.

Safety

Bosses have also revealed that the closure of Littleton ward at Cannock Hospital at Christmas over quality and safety issues could be made permanent.

Clinical Commissioning Groups say it is not just about saving money, claiming 40 per cent of the unit's patients would have been better served going to see a GP. Chief officer Andrew Donald told them: "We have to stop paying for services that don't give us value for money and put money into those that do."

But Labour parliamentary candidate Janos Toth said: "This is an absolute disgrace. This is a further blow to Cannock Chase residents following the reduced A&E opening hours at Stafford Hospital."

Patients' shock at decision

Mother Rachel Gripton

Janet Hawkins – shocked

Bernard Stubbs – 'well used'

David Breen, aged 46

Kevin Whitehouse – 'happy'

Rachel Lavender, 'nightmare'

PATIENTS have spoken of their shock and disappointment over the possible closure of Cannock Hospital's Minor Injuries Unit.

Health chiefs also want to close the Littleton ward to plug a £17 million hole in the budget.

But patients who rely on the unit say it is well used and needed and that travelling to nearby hospitals would be a huge inconvenience.

Former construction business owner Kevin Whitehouse, of Westbourne Avenue, Cannock, uses the minor injuries unit every day. He had a triple heart bypass operation three weeks ago and has to go into the department to have his dressings changed.

The 52-year-old said: "I am happy with the care I receive there and if it closes I will have to go to Stafford Hospital."

Rachel Gripton, aged 35, took her 10-year-old son Lewis Coles to the hospital on Tuesday after he fell and banged his head. The mother-of-three, a student, said: "We came straight in when Lewis had his accident. I did phone the doctor but they were busy and we would have had to have waited for hours."

Grandmother Janet Hawkins, aged 54, said she was 'shocked and disappointed'.

"We need it," she said. "This is going to be a huge inconvenience for the people of Cannock."

Retired carpenter Bernard Stubbs, 71, of Rugeley, used the minor injuries unit when his grandson had a sledging accident. He said: "This unit is well used by families with children. It is convenient to get here."

Steelworker David Breen, 46, from Hednesford, had been into the unit on Tuesday to get his blood pressure taken. He said: "It's always busy, which proves it is well used. It's shocking."

Mother-of-one Rachel Lavender, 38, from Cannock, said it would be a 'nightmare' getting to Stafford during rush hour if Cannock lost both wards.

Dogs used in hospitals' drug search

POLICE dogs are being used in hospitals to crack down on illegal drugs being taken on to wards.

A search dog has been taken on by South Staffordshire and Shropshire Healthcare NHS Foundation Trust and bosses say the idea could spread across the country.

It is being used to sniff out any drugs which may have been taken onto wards by patients.

The NHS trust requested help from Staffordshire Police after the success of a similar idea in West Mercia.

The police dog support unit has donated a two-year-old English Springer Spaniel called Buster after he was recently given to the force for use as a search dog. The dog will be used at hospitals run by the trust.

Inspector Chris Dawson, of the dog support unit, said: "This initiative has worked really well in other areas of the country.

"In other areas the introduction of a drugs search dog has seen a decline in the amount of drugs taken onto wards and it also reduced incidents of violence towards staff.

"I am hopeful it will have a positive effect in Staffordshire and West Mercia."

Dignity is the aim of caring campaign

A NEW campaign has been launched to ensure that people who need care in Staffordshire are treated with more respect and dignity.

The Dignity Champions network launched by Staffordshire County Council has been set up to promote the importance of treating people who receive care with dignity and respect.

So far, 39 dignity champions from across the county have joined the network and will be taking to the road to champion the message.

Champions include health and social care professionals, carers, employers and care students who will all be working to help promote dignity, improve services, and share best practice.

Councillor Alan White, cabinet member for care with Staffordshire County Council said: "We are always looking for ways to improve care services in Staffordshire and to drive up standards.

"The introduction of our Dignity Champions Network is exciting news."

People can find out more or join the Staffordshire Dignity Champions Network by contacting the Care Market Development Team on 01785 355795.

Cracking time for youngsters

LITTLE ones at Happy Tots Nursery in Cannock had an eggstra special time in the run up to Easter.

Children at the nursery in Orbital Plaza, Bridgtown had a cracking time with special Easter activities such as making cards, baking chocolate nests, drawing chicks and decorating masks.

Children enjoyed making bonnets at home with their families for a parade. The little ones also had fun with egg and spoon races and enjoyed finding the hidden surprises in the special nursery Easter Egg hunt.

Kelly Boden, manager of Happy Tots Cannock said: "We wanted to make the week before Easter really special for the children."

Lent lunch total

LENT lunches at St Michael's Church in Brereton raised more than £286.30, which will be handed to Christian Aid.

Chance to smile at holiday fun club

A GROUP of four churches are holding a half-term holiday club and free fun day for Cannock families.

The Smile holiday club will take place from Wednesday, May 28, to Friday, May 30, at Chase Baptist Church in Clarion Way, Chadsmoor, at a cost of just £3 for all three days.

Fun sessions for primary school age children will take place from 10am to noon, with skills workshops, including music and art, from 1-2pm for children in years 3 to 6.

There will also be a free family fun day in Cannock Park from 1-4pm on Saturday, May 31, with food, live music, bouncy castles and face painting.

The events are being organised by CreateChurch:-Cannock, Chase Baptist Church, Living Springs Church and Hednesford Pentecostal Church.

Amy Bedford, from CreateChurch:Cannock, said: "We are here to bless Cannock and it is exciting that churches are joining forces to serve the community together.

"Places are limited at the children's club so we're encouraging parents to register as soon as possible."

Winners take art from Easter competition

Winners and runners-up with their prizes

SIXTEEN lucky youngsters were awarded Easter goody bags for their efforts in an art competition.

Bescot Promotions joined forces with Cannock Chase Council to launch the competition for youngsters living in the district.

Children simply had to draw a picture based on what Easter means to them. More than 500 entered, including youngsters from local nurseries, primary and secondary schools.

Oliver Smith, aged three, won the under-fives category, with Lewis Whipps, Owen Gillan and Asra Lovenberry as runners-up. In the five-to-eight-year-olds section, Nell Bleu Beverly Clenton, aged six, won first prize, with Nathan Newport, Jasmine Dixon and Freya Yates as runners-up.

Brandon Clarke, aged nine, took home the eight-to-11-year-old's first prize, with runners-up places for Katie Hill, Thomas Jackson and Sian Farrington.

Display

The winner of the 11-to-16-year-old's section was 13-year-old Shannon Craddock, with runners-up prizes for Keeley McCandless, Jackie Grice and Stephen Lewis.

Prizes included Easter eggs and art activity books. The winning artwork along with pictures submitted by other children went on display in the council's shop – Unit 1 Market Hall Precinct, adjacent to Cannock Indoor Market Hall.

Linda Shaw, assistant markets officer for Cannock Chase Council said: "It was great to see the number of entries and the quality of artwork we received."

Steve Evans, Director of Bescot Promotions, said: "We were delighted with the response from the local schools and have enjoyed promoting this joint initiative."

Hospital trust fined over death of diabetic patient

A JUDGE says a diabetic patient was let down by the system at Stafford Hospital. The operating trust was fined £200,000 for the poor care that led to Gillian Astbury's death.

Mrs Astbury, of Hednesford, died at the hospital in April 2007 when she was not given insulin despite being diabetic.

Passing sentence on the Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust, High Court judge Mr Justice Haddon-Cave described the 66-year-old's death as tragic and wholly avoidable.

Mrs Astbury died after lapsing into a diabetic coma while being treated for fractures to her arm and pelvis.

The trust, which was also ordered to pay £27,049.74 in costs, pleaded guilty to breaching health and safety law last October at Stafford Magistrates' Court, having previously apologised for its poor care of Mrs Astbury.

Mr Justice Haddon-Cave said responsibility for the failures at the time of Mrs Astbury's death lay with senior managers.

Tragic

He said: "This was a wholly avoidable and tragic death of a vulnerable patient who was admitted to hospital for care but died because of the lack of it.

"The simple fact is that Mrs Astbury died because she was not given the insulin that she needed."

The court heard the hospital had since undergone radical change, while the entire senior management at the time of the death no longer work at the trust, set to be dissolved later this year.

The judge said a 'significant' fine was called for to reflect the gravity of the offence, the loss of life and to send a strong message to all organisations responsible for the care of the public.

Turn garden into haven for wildlife

NATURE lovers can discover how to turn their garden into a haven for wildlife.

Staffordshire Wildlife Trust is staging its free The Big Wild Garden Day at its Wolseley Centre HQ between Stafford and Rugeley on Sunday, May 4, from 10am to 3pm.

A series of talks and demonstrations will give visitors the chance to pick up a range of practical tips on growing a wildlife garden, with experts from the nature conservation charity on hand to answer any questions.

A host of hands-on activities will be also on offer for youngsters including seed planting and a wildlife trail.

Vicky Liu, Wolseley Centre warden said: "The way people look after their gardens can make a huge difference to wildlife.

"The good news is gardening for wildlife is easy to do, and at The Big Wild Garden Day we will aim to give people loads of practical tips and ideas to take away with them."

For more details call the Trust on 01889 880100.

A FOOTBALL club is celebrating staying up – as well as its 50th year. And fans can look back at its history with a display of memorabilia.

The forerunner to Heath Hayes FC was founded back in 1964. Name changes, ground relocations and divisional moves have since followed, as well as a host of trophies.

Now playing in the Midland Alliance, the club's win at Gornal help them avoid the drop last weekend.

Now, as the club marks its golden anniversary, an exhibition of old photographs and memorabilia is on show at the village library in Hednesford Road. It opened on Monday (April 28) and runs throughout the next two weeks.

Birthday celebrations will continue on Saturday, May 10 with a gathering for all former players and representatives. Anyone ever associated with the club is invited.

Featuring a barbecue, ox roast, live music and bar, it takes place at the club's Newlands Lane ground from 7pm. For more details, call 07717 625865.

NEWS in brief

Drugs recovered in raid on property

POLICE seized drugs valued at £33,000 during a raid on a Penkridge home.

Officers found 67 cannabis plants at the property in Vale Gardens last Wednesday (April 23). A 40-year-old man was arrested.

Insp Geoff Knight said: "Drug dealing and possession are regularly named as one of the things which people want us to tackle and we will do whatever we need to in order to take drugs and drug dealers of our streets."

Fashion night with Glitzy Bits

A FREE night of fashion and a chance to see Glitzy Bits products is being held in Great Wyrley later this month.

Clothing, jewellery, handbags and accessories will be on show and available to buy at Old Wyrley Hall, Olde Hall Lane, from 7pm on Monday, May 19.

A raffle will be held in aid of charities supported by Councillor Kath Perry.

Call Ryan for more information on 07557 336668 for details.

Concert raises more than £500

A CONCERT raised more than £500 for a charity in memory of a Norton Canes man who died of leukaemia.

The Cannock Chase Male Orpheus Choir headlined the concert in aid of Paul's Fun Fund, set up in memory of Paul Lee-Davis, from Norton Canes, who died aged 37, in 2011.

The concert at Chasetown Methodist Church raised £539.

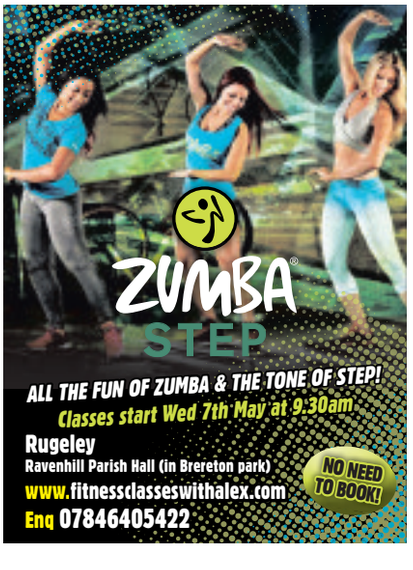
Free gym pass as eggs handed in GYM users took part in an Easter egg amnesty and were given a free day pass in return.

PureGym Hednesford, in Victoria Park, asked people to hand over their chocolate treats to distribute to charity.

Some 25 eggs were donated, which in turn were given to the British Heart Foundation in Rugeley.

Nine-mile ramble

AN easy nine-mile walk at Romsley, Clent Hills, is on the cards for the Chase & District Ramblers on Sunday (May 4). Departure time is Hednesford rail station car park, Anglesey Street, at 9am.



THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

OH, the indignity! From now on, anyone borrowing money to buy a house will have to convince the bank that they can afford the repayments. This tough new procedure has been denounced by one City slicker as "onerous and intrusive." The rest of us will regard it as commonsense – especially if it's my bank lending the money.

IT was, of course, a lack of such financial control under the Blair/Brown governments that led directly to Britain's financial crisis. I recall one couple some years ago at the height of mortgage-madness who told me they'd borrowed £400,000 to buy a restaurant without any savings or proof of income. It all ended in tears, for them and millions like them.

"THE most thankless job in the world." Correspondent Peter Osborne's description of the minister for tourism in Syria.

THE BBC at first blamed "sound issues" for the incomprehensible lines in this week's mini-series Jamaica Inn (BBC1). Did anyone buy that? What we heard was an exercise in that ancient theatrical craft of speaking in Mumbleshire rural gibberish. The actors could have spoken more clearly. They either chose or were directed not to ("It's Cornwall, darling, no-one's supposed to understand."). The result was lots of us switching on the subtitles. I was reminded of a night at the theatre when I seriously thought I was going deaf, so bad was the muffled mumbling on the stage. And then that great actor and all-round national treasure Celia Imrie made her entrance. Every word she spoke was crystal-clear. Cancel the hearing aids.

UKIP stands accused of racism over its election posters. But then we are all racists - it's just a question of how low you set the qualifying bar. I was accused of "appalling racism" a few days ago for suggesting that the US diplomat Zbigniew Brzezinski had a name like a winning line in Scrabble. A Daily Telegraph reader recently described being ticked off by a teacher for uttering the word "blackboard" (negative ethnic overtones, apparently). Ukip's posters are certainly blunt, but then whoever said election posters had to pussyfoot around the issues?

A FREEDOM of Information request reveals that 67 NHS doctors have signed abortion forms without even seeing the woman involved. But no-one is to be prosecuted or even reported to the police by the General Medical Council. Labour MP Jim Dobbin says: "This shames the GMC and makes a mockery of the Abortion Act." Actually, it's worse than that. It is a warning of how euthanasia will work if it is ever legalised. Over the years, all the safeguards on abortion have been swept aside and the safeguards on euthanasia will go the same way. Abortion on demand has been promoted as "a woman's right to choose." Euthanasia on demand will arrive with the slogan "a family's right to choose," or some such nonsense. But remember - as ye sow, ye reap. For the babyboomer generation, now in their 60s and 70s, who have allowed abortion to happen on an industrial scale will be the first generation to be helped off this planet with a lethal overdose, whether they want to go or not.

Collymore action vow on hacking

FORMER footballer Stan Collymore has revealed he was a target of phone hacking and has pledged to take 'appropriate legal action'.

The former Aston Villa and England forward, from Cannock, announced on Twitter that police had informed him his phone had been hacked.

The investigation is part of Operation Weeting, which launched in 2011, into the hacking scandal associated with the now defunct News of the World. The 43-year-old tweeted: "I have been contacted by Operation Weeting to let me know several of my numbers were hacked.

Conducted

"I will take the appropriate legal action."

Operation Weeting is being conducted by the Specialist Crime Directorate of the Metropolitan Police.

It is being conducted alongside Operation Elveden, an investigation into allegations of inappropriate payments to the police by those involved with phone hacking, and Operation Tuleta, an investigation into alleged computer hacking for the News of the World.

Investigating officers said they estimated there were more than 800 hacking victims.

Former News Of The World and Sun editors Rebekah Brooks and Andy Coulson are currently on trial for overseeing the hacking of phones – allegations they both deny.

Actors Hugh Grant and Steve Coogan are some of the leading figures who have campaigned against phone hacking.

MP backs traders in street market dispute

CHASE MP Aidan Burley is backing a campaign to scrap a controversial new street market in Cannock.

The outdoor market was launched in November to help revitalise Cannock centre but struggling traders at the long-established indoor market are up in arms over the move.

Stallholders say many of the street market stalls are simply duplications of their own.

by Marion Brennan

Mr Burley has now stepped into the fray, calling on the district council to instead focus its efforts on supporting the existing 'loyal' traders who have been trading in the indoor shopping centre for years.

The Conservative MP has written to the council's head of planning and regeneration Bob Phillips, asking what their plans are for the future of the market.

Treatment

He has also asked whether the new out-of-town traders are receiving any preferential treatment, such as reduced rent for their stall, or free parking.

The so-called farmers, arts and crafts market every Friday was launched by Cannock Chase Council in a joint initiative with Bescot Promotions in a bid to attract shoppers into the town centre and boost business for existing traders.

But more than 40 stallholders at the indoor market say their sales have slumped by up to 50 per cent since its introduction.

Mr Burley said: "Many of the existing indoor traders, the majority of whom live locally in Cannock Chase, have said that the introduction of this new outdoor market has put them at a competitive disadvantage and is having a damaging impact on their trade.

"While I do not doubt the good intentions of this scheme it is clear that the current outdoor market, far from supporting existing traders, is making them unsustainable.

"It is also the case that many of the traders from the outdoor market are based outside of Cannock Chase in neighbouring Walsall, so any money that is spent at these stalls is consequently being taken out of the local economy rather than being kept in the town"

Church is on the move

ONE of Cannock's newest churches is moving to a fresh venue next weekend. CreateChurch:Cannock will hold its first service at Littleton Green Community School in Huntington on Sunday, May 11, from 10am.

The family-friendly church has been meeting at the Electric Palace Picture House since September 2012.

Church members are organising a free family fun day at Huntington Park from 10.30am to 1pm on Sunday, May 25. For more information visit www.createchurchcannock.co.uk

Church leader Steve Graham said: "We are really excited to be moving into Huntington."

Film's red carpet premiere

Actor Lee Thompson, writer and director Christian Evans, and producer Jack Rowley

The 18-minute dark comedy thriller has been chosen for a screening at the famous Cannes Film Festival is held each year.

Ochus Bochus, which is entered in the short film category, has been made by writer and director Christian Evans, with Jack Rowley as producer.

It will be premiered at the Electric Palace Cinema in Cannock on Sunday, May 4, at 8pm. Mr Evans, of Norton Canes, said: "It will be a night to celebrate, dedicated to those who worked so hard on making it – from the cast and the crew to the backers and believers."

The 26-year-old, who studied film production technology at Staffordshire University, said he was proud of the finished product.The film was made possible by the team raising £1,461 through 'crowdfunding', where people make donations via a website for projects trying to get off the ground.

Cruising to travel industry accolade

A CANNOCK businessman has been named young entrepreneur of the year at a national awards ceremony.

Simon Purchase picked up the gong at the British Travel Industry Hall of Fame awards held at London's Savoy Hotel.

Mr Purchase, aged 31, set up Cruisingexcursions.com based in Cannock three years ago and the firm now employs 39 workers.

Mr Purchase said: "It is a great honour to have won Young Entrepreneur of the Year in the travel industry's Hall of Fame awards.

"Cruising has shown massive growth in recent years and these days it offers great value so it's no longer a once in a lifetime holiday for the elderly.

"The cruises became affordable but I realised that the excursions offered by the cruise lines when the ships went into ports were often very expensive.

"I recognised the opportunity and after massive research and IT development set up the company."

The Hall of Fame awards are a fixture in the travel industry's calendar where the best in the industry are honoured. Mr Purchase was recognised by judges because of his success and impressive growth of the company.

Air concerns to the police

PEOPLE can raise concerns to Cannock Chase's Local Policing Team today (Thursday).

Chief Inspector Steve Morrey and his team will be at Asda in Avon Road, from 11am to 3pm.

'The 'Your Service, Your Voice' campaign is running as part of the force's policing plan objective of dealing with what matters to local communities.

It will give local residents and businesses the chance to meet Local Policing Teams face-to-face, to voice issues and discuss any crime or safety concerns they may have about their neighbourhoods.

Funds are on offer for AONB projects

A POT of money is available for community groups to develop projects that focus on Cannock Chase Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB).

The Cannock Chase AONB Partnership has £10,000 in total to fund projects up to £1,000 or £2,000.

Emma Beaman, Assistant AONB Officer said: "This funding is a really valuable resource for voluntary groups.

"Examples of projects that could be awarded a grant include creating bird feeding stations, art activities such as wildlife sculptures, tools for volunteers, habitat creation, or way markers.

"We hope plenty of groups will apply for funding and we look forward to helping projects that will boost Cannock Chase AONB."

The deadline to apply for a grant is Friday May 30. An application form and the full criteria are available on request from the Cannock Chase AONB Unit.

To find out more and to request an application form, call 01785 619185 or email cannockchase@staffordshire.gov.uk

It is based on the MGM musical of the same name and features all the numbers from the original score including Good Morning,You Stepped Out of a Dream and the classic title track.

Tickets are £12, £10 concessions or £6 for under-16s, from the Church Street theatre's box office on 01543 578762 or at www.aldridgemcs.co.uk

Meeting of men

THE Men of Burntwood Fellowship welcomes John Cooper to its monthly meeting on Wednesday, May 14, from 7.45pm at St Matthews Sports and Social Club, St Matthews Road. The topic will be 'Catering at sea'. For more details, call Keith on 01543 685035.

Body cams rolled out to officers across county

BOBBIES across the Cannock Chase and Burntwood areas are using body cams thanks to a scheme funded by Police & Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis.

Staffordshire Police is believed to be the first force in the UK to have body-worn video cameras for all frontline officers.

They have been rolled across Staffordshire and Stoke-on-Trent following a successful pilot by Newcastle-under-Lyme Local Policing Team.

The cameras provide vital visual evidence in key investigations and improve transparency when dealing with the public. They also act as a deterrent when dealing with offenders and can be invaluable in instances where there are complaints against officers.

The cameras will also lead to efficiencies and savings at court through the use of video evidence instead of thousands of written words – cutting paperwork and getting officers back on the streets.

Officers serving Cannock and Rugeley and Burntwood and Lichfield will wear the equipment. The scheme will provide 530 new cameras at police bases – enough for every frontline officer, PCSO and Special Constable on duty at any one time. It allows officers at the touch of a button to record video and audio at crime scenes, including low-light situations, which can then be played directly in court as evidence.

Mr Ellis said: "This is part of a major technology plan to free up officer time and create thousands of extra hours of visible policing.

"They are part of rigorous efforts to ensure everything that's done is open, honest and transparent so that public confidence across policing and criminal justice is improved."

Chief Constable Mike Cunningham said: "Our officers have welcomed the introduction of body worn video and are able to use this equipment to help them deliver an outstanding service to victims of crime.

"It means we are able capture video evidence from our arrival at an incident, and these videos show an accurate record of what has happened.

"Courts are now be able see first-hand exactly what an offence looked like on the particular day in question which ultimately means better support for victims and improves our ability to bring offenders to justice."

Store owners in court over planning breach

AN off-licence has been taken to court after failing to demolish an extension which was carried out without planning permission.

Liquor Stop, which is also a newsagents with living quarters, underwent work in Stafford Road, Cannock and was served an enforcement notice by Cannock Chase District Council last September.

Owners Sukhpreet Kaur and Baldev Singh pleaded guilty to a breach of the notice at Stafford Magistrates Court.

Mrs Julie Simpson, prosecuting on behalf of Cannock Chase District Council, said they had been granted permission for a two storey-side extension and single-storey expansion to the rear.

An application for a larger extension was then submitted, but turned down.

Building work began last September and council officers soon became aware what was being built was not in accordance with the approved plans.

Granted

The side extension was 2.5 metres longer than it should have been and the rear extension one metre bigger. An enforcement noticewas issued.

A statement given on behalf of the pair by a relative said they had been told by a planning agent that the permission for the larger extension had been granted.

It wasn't until September they were aware of the issue and have been in discussions with the surveyor.

The charge stated that they were in breach of a notice issued by Cannock Chase District Council and failed to comply with an enforcement notice.

The pair each admitted the offence. They were both given a 12 month conditional discharge each, told to pay £230 costs each along with a £15 victim surcharge.

Join Villa Old Stars for charity

FOOTBALLERS can test their skills against Aston Villa legends in a fundraising match in Hednesford.

Beacon Centre for the Blind is inviting people to take part in the charity match against the Villa Old Stars on Sunday, May 18.

The match will be part of a fun day with family entertainment. It event kicks off at 1.30pm at Hednesford Town's Keys Park home.

Some of the biggest names in Villa's recent history will line up against a team of the charity's supporters with all proceeds going towards helping the visually impaired.

Tickets are £5 for adults, £2 for children and £12 for a family, available from the ground, the Beacon Centre charity shop in Cannock and at the main centre in Sedgley.

Jo Field, from the Beacon Centre, said: "Every penny raised will help us to support local people with sight loss live fuller and more independent lives."

A coach will leave the Beacon Centre at Wolverhampton Road East, Sedgley. To book, email fundraising@beacon4blind.co.uk

Road delays as lorry overturns

The overturned lorry lies on its side at on the A460 at Lodge Lane, close to Wolverhampton Road, Cheslyn Hay

A LORRY driver was taken to hospital with head injuries after his HGV overturned on a busy roundabout.

The smash happened on the roundabout of the A460 Lodge Lane and the A4601 Wolverhampton Road near Cheslyn Hay causing delays for more than six hours.

No other vehicles were involved and one lane was initially closed approaching the roundabout from Lodge Lane. A crane was called in to recover the lorry at around 2pm last Thursday (April 24).

The driver, a man in his 50s, was taken to New Cross Hospital in Wolverhampton.

Fluid

Staffordshire Police spokesman Sarah Davison said the call was received by police at 8.30am.

She said a lorry had overturned and at first it was thought fluid had leaked from the vehicle. Traffic built up from junction 11 of the M6 for Cheslyn Hay.

West Midlands Ambulance Service spokesman Jamie Arrowsmith said: "We sent one ambulance and a paramedic area support officer to the scene.

"We were called at 8.27am to a lorry that had rolled over.

"A man in his 50s suffered head injuries and was taken to New Cross Hospital in Wolverhampton."

IN MY VIEW

WITH MARK ANDREWS

BILL Nighy once remarked that very little stirred him to feelings of patriotism.

The professional luvvie, best known for his role in the saccharine-soaked romantic comedy Love Actually, said: "I'm always slightly suspicious of anyone carrying a flag, of any colour."

So how did anybody ever think it would be a good idea casting him in the role of Sgt Wilson for a remake of that most patriotic of sitcoms, Dad's Army?

Remakes of much-loved films and television shows are a minefield at the best of time. Think the 2006 version of The Pink Panther, with Steve Martin taking the role of Peter Sellers as the bumbling Inspector Clouseau. What was all that about?

Or even worse, the 2009 'reboot' of Minder. Really, we should have known from the start that this would be a turkey. Anything that brands itself a 're-boot' is certain to be hateful.

But Dad's Army? There are really some things you should never touch.

This series was the epitome of Britishness, a tale of the stolid underdog who would fight to the death in the face of any adversity.

It was also a brilliant comedy of manners, pitting the chippy, working-class-lad-done-well Mainwaring against the foppish, lazy dilettante Sgt Wilson.

It is hard to see how a metropolitan intellectual like Nighy would fit in with this.

And besides, what is the point? Maybe there would be a case for the BBC trying to remake some of the early episodes which have been lost. But a glossy, cinematic remake? It's wrong, wrong, wrong.

I don't know who came up with the idea, but I suspect that if Sgt Wilson were around, he would have some gentle words of advice.

"Do you think that's wise, Sir?"

And no doubt Captain Mainwaring would be much more direct: "Stupid boy!"

Or, as Warden Hodges would say: Ruddy hooligans.

TALKING of Bill Nighy, it seems that the police in Bristol seem to have taken another one of his films to heart.

After hearing reports of a stolen moped they sent five high-powered police cars and helicopter to pursue the rogue riders.

But on discovering that the fugitives weren't wearing crash helmets, the boys in blue decided to slow down the pursuit to a snail's pace to comply with health and safety guidance.

The chase lasted for two-and-a-half hours.

Lads, lads. Hot Fuzz was a comedy. Not a training video.

West Bromwich – a larger town without its own code

Wednesbury, Sandwell, but with a Walsall code

Part of Birmingham city centre, with the postcode B3

Past the post for 40 years of code

It's 40 years since the birth of postcodes, which today mean so much more than just where you live . . .

IT IS made up of letters and numbers, there are 1.8 million across the country and it even determines your house insurance.

It's the humble postcode, and it's been addressing the issue of sorting mail quicker for the past 40 years.

And the five-to-seven digit code helps to pinpoint your humble abode, whether enabling you to get your parcels delivered or getting you to your destination on the sat nav.

The first postcodes were trialled in Norwich in 1959, and in 1966 a mammoth eight-year operation to roll them out across the country began.

Now, postcodes are in use all across the UK, covering more than 29 million addresses.

But far from simply indicating where people live, they can be used to reveal so much more. Intelligence, crime, marriage and even fertility rates among communities can all be deduced from a postcode, apparently.

The Royal Mail has commissioned a study to mark the 40th anniversary of the postcode.

It finds the top 10 postcodes in a host of categories. And it's good news for some areas of the West Midlands too.

The B3 area of Birmingham – covering parts of the city centre – is in the top 10 for the number of highly-qualified residents.

It is the only entry in that list from outside the capital, with around 66 per cent having a degree or professional qualification.

Meanwhile, Sandwell appears in the top 10 for the number of births per 1,000 women aged between 16 and 44. It is seventh in the list, with a rate of just under 80.

Yew Tree Estate – is it Walsall or Sandwell or both? Royal Mail give it a WS code

The combination of letters and numbers was chosen because people can remember a mixture more easily than a number code. But the origin of the postcode can be traced back far further than the 1970s when it came into force. In 1856 the growth of London's population led to the capital being divided into 10 postal districts, and people were asked to add the initials of the district to the end of an address. Four years later, other towns followed suit by using initials, and by the early 1930s major towns and cities, including Birmingham, did the same.

Postcodes are generally accepted and used across the country today, but it was not always the case.

Some residents objected simply to the idea of it coming in to use, while others were annoyed at being ranked with areas they did not consider themselves part of.

Helen Dafper, archivist at the British Postal Museum and Archive, said postcodes are now generally accepted as standard. She said: "We have looked at some research material for Dudley in the Black Country, which reveals the town started to get postcodes in the summer of 1971. People were given DY postcodes and then the town was broken down into 14 districts.

"The DY letters cover Dudley, Brierley Hill, Kidderminster, Stourbridge, Wordsley and Stourport-on-Severn. In some areas, people did not like them being introduced, but this does not appear to have been the case so much in the West Midlands.

"I think some people may have expected complaints from people in Kidderminster, who were given a DY post code despite being in Worcestershire, but there weren't really any letters of objection."

Lottery

West Bromwich is one of the largest towns in the country without its own postcode representing the town or borough, as it has B for Birmingham.

One Black Country resident who feels he is living a bit of a postcode lottery is historian Terry Price, who has a home on the Yew Tree estate with a WS postcode. He said: "The deeds on my house say it is in West Bromwich. The Yew Tree Estate was built by the West Bromwich Corporation, and I still pay my council tax to Sandwell Council. Yet when they introduced the postcodes, overnight our addresses changed to Walsall."

"It's the same with Friar Park. That is West Bromwich, it was built by the West Bromwich Corporation, but that now has a Wednesbury address and a Walsall postcode. Great Bridge is also in West Bromwich, but it has a Tipton address and a Dudley postcode. Postcodes bear no resemblance to geographical boundaries of a town."

There is one person who does have a special postcode all to themselves though – Father Christmas resides at SAN TA1.

POLITICS

WITH DANIEL WAINWRIGHT

IT seemed like the ultimate publicity stunt.

In the meetings to discuss the opening ceremony for the Commonwealth Games, blowing up five tower Glasgow tower blocks in front of a worldwide television audience must have seemed like a superb wheeze.

But now, with just weeks to go to the start, Commonwealth Games chiefs have been forced to perform an embarrassing U-turn and abandon the spectacular after 17,500 people signed a petition objecting to the plans. More to the point, several people living in the shadow of the flats said they would refuse to leave their homes to allow the explosions to take place.

Certainly, blowing up five of Scotland's tallest buildings would have made great television. And when similar such demolitions have been performed in the Black Country, there have been no shortage of people turning out to enjoy the spectacle.

However, while blowing up rundown, unpopular tower blocks might be popular in the short-term, there surely must be a debate to be had about whether it is a good long-term housing policy.

The high-rise flats of the 1950s and 60s were certainly not what one would call an architectural triumph. In the past, weak security, an unsuitable tenant mix, and poor maintenance has made many of them difficult to let. And once a block gets a bad name, it is very hard to shake off.

Also, it should be recognised that many of these blocks are now between 50 and 60 years old, and were often built hurriedly and cheaply to solve Britain's postwar housing crisis.

However, much of the criticism of the so-called 'bedroom tax' or 'spare-room subsidy',depending on which side of the fence you sit, has surrounded the shortage of one and two-bedroom homes for single people and childless couples. And whatever the merits or otherwise of this policy, the problem is not going to be solved by demolishing such properties without replacing them.

There are shining examples of where local council in the West Midlands have done a superb job of turning around tower blocks. Baylie Court in Stourbridge, and Clent Court in Dudley spring to mind, where the once-unpopular flats have successfully been turned into pleasant homes.

Of course, transforming the homes that people love to hate is going to prove a far tougher task than knocking them down and handing the site over to developers, and throwing in a commitment to 'affordable homes'.

But if tackling Britain's housing crisis by encouraging people to 'downsize' is the way forward, sticking dynamite under the dwindling number of small homes is a strange way of going about it.

Artist drops in on own exhibition

Sue Prince with some of her paintings at the Museum of Cannock Chase in Hednesford

AN award-winning artist has displayed her work at a Chase tourist attraction.

Sue Prince dropped in at the museum of Cannock Chase, in Hednesford, during the exhibition of her artwork. It was on display at the venue in Valley Road from March 10 to April 27. Last Thursday, she visited the museum to tell visitors about her techniques and demonstrate to her work. The exhibition, called The World That Hands Built, told the story of people and their places.

Inspired by Swedish folk art, her unusual works are pictorial stories about the rural and natural environment, created in egg tempera on linen and canvas.

New bike death inquest

A CYCLIST taken to Stafford Hospital with potentially life-threatening injuries was discharged on the same day, an inquest heard.

John Moore-Robinson was unwell with chest pain, respiratory problems and vomiting following his admission to A&E, the hearing was told.

The 20-year-old died in April 2006 after medics failed to spot a ruptured spleen following a mountain bike accident on Cannock Chase.

An inquest in 2007 recorded a narrative verdict but that has been quashed and a new four-day hearing opened .

Mr Moore-Robinson's friends who were with him on the day said they were shocked at the standard of care.

The inquest at Leicester Town Hall was told Mr Moore-Robinson, of Sileby, Leicestershire, received just two observations in three-and-a-half hours. John Foulkes-Williams said: "It was obvious he was in pain."

Paramedic Andrew Hopwood said his initial assessment was a problem with the ribs or something internal and there were respiratory issues. Tracy White, senior nurse in charge of triage on the day, said there had been a shortage of staff at that period.

The hearing before the senior coroner for Leicester Catherine Mason continues.

A change of law is required

SINCE 2010 we have had cuts to services, work contracts cut to zero hours, seen huge cuts to income tax for the richest, but we are told that in real terms there are increases of funding of our NHS. So where has all the money gone?

Thanks to Blair and Brown's Private Finance Initiative to build and rent privately funded hospitals – the use of which is costing us billions – the Con/Dems have cut the number of nurses, police and firemen, are now re-employing the same police and firemen but at the same time bypassing British nurses and employing Greek ones in huge numbers through agencies at £33 per hour plus fees.

The UK needs a change of law so future governments can only act on what has been declared in their manifesto and not change direction once in power. This, to me, would be the safest way to elect a government that puts its people first.

HELEN, Hednesford

Vulnerable people being put at risk

THE bad news from the County Council goes on. Having already decided to close the day centres for those with special needs, closing youth clubs, libraries under threat and switching off the street lights, now they are turning on the elderly.

The council has taken £4 million out of the budget for supporting the elderly to enable them to remain in their homes, with a promise of a further £2 million cut next year.

They plan to cut the money given towards sheltered housing schemes as they say the residents there can look after each other and don't need extra help.

There is a reason why people live in sheltered schemes. It is because they need some help to enable them to live with some independence. Not content with that, county bosses have also decided to cut their contribution towards the cost of social alarms for the elderly and disabled, ignoring the risk that they are taking with our most vulnerable residents. These people have worked all of their lives and made their contribution to society. It is now the turn of society to support them.The county council is putting vulnerable people at risk and there is a serious danger that the NHS will have to pick up the tab as there may well be more ambulance call outs and hospital admissions as a result.

Once pleasant street is now a racetrack

BEING a resident of View Street, Hednesford was at one time a pleasure. However, now with the volume of traffic we have to endure, it is fast becoming a street waiting for an accident to happen.

I believe that sometime ago, a number of residents returned a questionnaire, not only to Staffs County Council, but also our MP, requesting either, or both, a one-way system/speed ramps. We are still waiting.

The street has become a racetrack, a short cut from Pye Green Road to Belt Road. The situation will get worse when the new houses are built by the garden centre opposite Thornhill Road. Residents often comment on the speed that some cars go down View Street. It's estimated that some do 60mph regardless of parked cars and schoolchildren. Even if we only had speed limits it may help – 20 is plenty – is shown outside most schools, but we have no deterrents at all.

Country left in mess by upper class

I THINK it is time we got things right about the state the country was like in 2010. According to the Tory Government they keep saying that the Labour Party left us in a mess.

Not so. In the time of a Labour Government we had extraordinary misbehaviour going on with the properties and businesses that were by the rich half of this country.

They made thousands out of their properties and businesses by going to the banks and borrowing extraordinary amounts and the banks closed their eyes to it.

At the same time the Euro banks had got into trouble, leaving our banks and theirs on the brink of disaster.

If it wasn't for Gordon Brown putting billions back into our banks there would have been five to six million people out of work in this country, so he saved us from bankruptcy and disaster. The working class are paying for the disaster caused by the upper class.

V ROSA, Cannock

Echoing thoughts of car parking idea

CAN I echo the sentiments of Mr R. Fullelove BEM, in The Chronicle, April 10.

As he rightly says, what was once a tennis court etc, in Chapel Street, Heath Hayes, has become an unsightly rubbish tip. Not only would Mr Fullelove's idea create parking spaces, but people living in the immediate vicinity, would no longer have the unsightly view, nor the risk of vermin infestation, associated with these kind of downtrodden pieces of land.

The other positive thing about this idea, is that we have people parking closer and closer to the Chapel Street/Hednesford Road junction, than they should – I for one can recollect and have witnessed, a few near misses of pedestrians at this junction and suspect this might reduce accident risk.

It is a really good suggestion and hope the council take heed, for the sake of keeping the village safe and tidy – and as stated enabling traders to reap the benefits of their outlay.

M. DAVIS
Heath Hayes

Will cat cull be called to deal with menace?

NOW that we know cats carry and transmit TB, I wonder when can we expect the green welly brigade to start agitating for a countryside kitty cull to go with their badger slaughter?

I understand the favourite country-folk method for controlling mammal pests is hunting with dogs, eminently suitable for dealing with the menace of plague cats. Tally ho!

Proud parents eager to take triplets home

A HEDNESFORD couple have become proud parents of triplets after spending years trying to have children.

Stacey Farmer found out she was pregnant after one course of IVF treatment at a hospital in Wolverhampton.

But the 28-year-old and her 31-year-old husband Mathew were pleasantly surprised when they were told that she was expecting with triplets during her first scan at Cannock Hospital.

Twin boys Kai and Callum, together with sister Sophie, were born via caesarean section at Birmingham Women's Hospital on March 18.

The tots were born 14 weeks earlier than expected, with each of them weighing less than 2lbs.

Emergency

The triplets were transferred to New Cross Hospital's neonatal unit where they are being kept under observation but the couple are hoping to take them home in June.

As they were born so early the couple couldn't even hold the babies for the first few days of their lives.

Mr Farmer, who works as an emergency line feeder for Jaguar, said: "We thought we were having twins at first, then we found out we were having triplets at the first scan.

"They told us one of the eggs had split. It was a big surprise but a nice one.

"We have identical boys and a girl. It worked the first time Stacey had IVF. It was quite emotional.

"They were about the weight of half a bag of sugar when they were born.

"We couldn't touch them for about a week and a half because of the risk of infection. They had to be transferred to New Cross Hospital," Mathew added.

"They will be there until they get stronger but we are hoping to take them home in June, if not before then."

The couple, of Maycroft Close, underwent their IVF treatment at St Jude's Hospital and say they cannot wait to take their babies home.

"Stacey visits them every day and I go three times a week," said Mathew. "They are doing really well and we are looking forward to bringing them home."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Currying favour with food lovers

Restaurant owner Rahman Khan with the Curry Cup and his three-year-old son Ibrahim

A FAMILY-run restaurant has won a top award after impressing a panel of judges. Khan's Kitchen in Bridge Cross Road, Chase Terrace has been handed the Midland Balti Association Curry Cup.

Judges from the Midland Balti Association visited the restaurant, which opened two-and-a-half years ago and marked it on how good the food was and the atmosphere. Owner Rahman Khan, aged 47, said: "This is the first time we've ever had the Curry Cup. We were were pleased to receive it.

"It is a proud moment for me. We've got it proudly on show in the restaurant."

Knife threat at gipsy site

ARMED police were called to a gipsy site in Penkridge to reports of a man with a knife.

Three men were arrested and another was taken to hospital with a hand injury. Officers went to the site, off the A449 Stafford Road, at 1.45pm on Sunday. Three men, aged 21, 34 and 59, were arrested and bailed.

Duty Officer John Townsend, from Staffordshire Police, said: "Because of the information we had that one of the men involved had a bladed weapon, weapon response officers were sent to the scene.

Hospital

"Three men aged between 22 and 35 were arrested and remain in police custody for questioning. A man in his 50s suffered a hand injury and was taken to hospital for treatment.

"The incident did not involve anyone from outside the site and there was no risk to the outer community."

Kirsten Rawlins, aged 22, of Wheaton Aston, said: "I was driving out of the village on the A449 towards Rodbaston and saw an unmarked car, as well as some marked cars at the entrance of the gipsy site.

"There was an officer standing guard. It all looked very dramatic."

Anyone with information is asked to call police on 101.

Wildlife trust's joy at rising visitor numbers

WILDLIFE trust bosses have voiced their delight as visitor numbers at its headquarters reached a five-year high.

Record numbers of families flocked to Staffordshire Wildlife Trust's Wolseley Centre over the Easter weekend.

Bosses say around 2,000 people visited the site from Friday to Monday – more than the total amount of visitors in the whole of March last year when Easter fell on March 31.

They put the record levels down to the dry weather and the number of special events on at the centre.

Cathy Taylor, visitor experience co-ordinator, said: "We were delighted that so many people of all ages were able to enjoy the Easter sunshine.

"These record breaking figures are also great news for local wildlife, as more people than ever are connecting with and learning about nature and how to care and look after it."

Patron

The site has undergone a number of improvements in the past few months. A new bird hide was unveiled in the grounds earlier this month.

It was officially opened by the trust's patron, Sir James Hawley, the former Lord Lieutenant of Staffordshire.

The wooden structure, which features a range of viewing windows, a seating area and is wheelchair friendly, was built completely by trust volunteers and was funded by a £7,500 grant from the Biffa Award.

The grant has also funded the installation of two family-friendly picnic areas and wildflower planters.

There is also a new sculpture trail thanks to funding from the Realise Foundation – and a number of pieces of willow art made possible thanks to cash from The Cannock Chase Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty Sustainable Development Fund.

Leisure centre's top award

Lynn Illidge receives the award from Quest board chairman Martyn Allison

STAFF are celebrating a national award given to Rugeley Leisure Centre.

The Burnthill Lane facility was named the third highest scoring facility management centre in 2013 by sport and leisure quality assurance programme Quest.

The award celebrates its excellent status as a quality leisure centre with sites assessed on a number of criteria.

Lynn Illidge, general manager at the leisure centre, managed by WLCT on behalf of Cannock Chase District Council, said: "We are delighted to receive this award.There are over 600 sites across the country taking part in this scheme so to come third is an achievement."

Wendy has Dunn well to win salver

BURNTWOOD WI

PRESIDENT Gwyneth Howells was elected to stand again at the AGM and welcomed everyone to the birthday meeting.

Cakes and wine were provided by June Crowley celebrating her 80th and Kay Brian celebrating her 70th. The minutes were read and accepted and matters arising from them discussed.

Feedback from the Spring Council Meeting was good, and all those who attended the Group Meeting at Wall said what a great night it was. Entertainment came from Sylvia Newall and Ann Smith who did some flower arrangements and added a lot of humour too.

The Men's Supper was a great success, with lovely food and good company.

Secretary Judith told everyone about all the activities going on at county level and of the Burntwood's own forthcoming events, a birthday meal at Beaudesert Golf Club on April 29, and a barbecue in June.

After all the business, the ladies sat back to be entertained by Cherrywood, a ladies duo who sang and read poetry and got everyone singing along.

The 75th anniversary competition salver, given to the member who has accrued the most points from the monthly competitions was presented to Wendy Dunn. Social time was a game of bingo. After the raffle and "thought for the month" the meeting closed.

High tea puts smile on pensioners' faces

HEDNESFORD LIONS

RECENTLY formed Hednesford Lions put smiles on the faces of more than 100 local pensioners at a "Putting on the Ritz" Afternoon tea event at the Aquarius Ballroom.

The afternoon comprised of live music, bingo, a raffle and a high tea. Hednesford Lions held a number of fundraising events and with the help of the Staffordshire community grant and local transport firm Almar cabs managed arrange this free event for the deserving pensioners of Hednesford.

All of the Lions' guests went away with a lovely framed photograph of themselves as a memento of the afternoon tea.

Hednesford Lions are always looking for new members to join them to continue the good work it does in the community.

Meetings are at 7.45pm on the second Tuesday of the month at the Hen House pub, Eskrett Street.

CANNOCK LIONS

CANNOCK Lions Club hosted a second successful 'Schools in Harmony' concert at the Prince of Wales Centre on April 9.

This concert is establishing itself as part of the Cannock Community Calendar.

Performers once again proved that Cannock has an abundance of talent to be proud of. The pupils and students from St Luke's, Chase High, Kingsmead and Cardinal Griffin entertained with a wide range of music both vocal and instrumental. Compered by Dale Abnett, there was everything from a 'sing and sign' choir, opera, traditional items and songs from Les Miserables to some impressive extemporisation in the finale 'Search for A Hero'.

The evening raised £750 to help Cannock Lions carry on its work. For details of Cannock Lions ring 0845 8334967 or email cannocklionsclub@hotmail.com

Minister given update on housing scheme

Andy Sawford MP, left, meets Councillors George Adamson and Frank Allen in Kelvin Drive, Chadsmoor

LABOUR'S shadow communities and local government minister visited to a rundown Cannock estate where new family homes will be built under a £6 million scheme.

The Moss Road development in Chadsmoor will be the first new council house building scheme in the area for 25 years.

Corby MP Andy Sawford was given an update on the plans to demolish 170 flats and replace them with 70 houses.

He was shown some of outdated blocks in Kelvin Drive by Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson and housing chief Councillor Frank Allen.

The trip coincided with the launch of the Labour Party pledge to build 200,000 new homes a year if it won the next General Election.

MP welcomes investment

A £36 billion investment in more than 200 infrastructure projects across the country has been welcomed by South Staffordshire MP Gavin Williamson.

The investment includes plans to improve pinch points on the A5 Churchbridge island near Cannock and Mr Williamson said the move would help to create a 'stronger, more competitive' British economy.

Romanian gang sent to jail over ATM scam

THREE Romanian men have been jailed after being caught with more than £700 in bank notes which they stole by jamming supermarket cash machines.

The gang were jailed over the 'sophisticated' enterprise that involved them attaching a metal device to ATMs at Asda stores in Cannock and Smethwick.

by Deb Hardiman

The con was designed to make unsuspecting users think the cash they had asked for hadn't come out of the machine.

When the customers walked away thinking the machine was faulty, the men then moved in to remove the device and any money that came out.

Enterprise

Mr Neil Ahjua, prosecuting, told Stafford Crown Court it was a group enterprise.

Stefan Barut, aged 23, Florin Pavel, 25, and Ioan Huja, 26, all pleaded guilty to one charge of conspiracy to steal.

They were caught with £740 after investigations following complaints on January 21.

Mr Ahjua said: "Certain quantities of cash were recovered after being found in the possession of two of the defendants.

"This case involves a conspiracy to steal funds from automated cash machines by the attachment of equipment in an attempt to trap cash when a customer came along."

Checks of closed circuit television images showed the Peugeot car that the three men, of no fixed abode, were later spotted in had been at the Cape Hill premises.

In Cannock, CCTV checks showed that Huja and Pavel had been standing near the ATM and cash had been trapped in it.

Police were called and the group were found in the vehicle on a car park nearby.

Huja had £590 on his person while Barut had £250. The money was in £10 and £20 notes.

A number of addresses and postcodes for a number of Asda, Tesco and Sainsbury's stores across the country were also found on a sat nav in the car.

Mr Recorder Timothy Raggatt QC jailed Barut for eight months. Pavel and Huja were jailed for nine months. They all must serve half the terms before being released on licence.

CYCLISTS are being urged to sign up for a fundraising bike ride on Cannock Chase.

Riders will be saddling up to raise vital funds to support the three million-plus people with diabetes in the UK.

The sponsored Diabetes UK Cannock Chase Bike Ride is on Sunday, May 18, and starts at the Birches Valley Forest Centre.

The registration fee is £10 for adults and £5 for children and it is suitable for all ages and abilities with three routes varying in length from 1.5 to 15 miles. Cycle hire is available. Gwyneth Stinson, from Rugeley, will be taking part with her sister Amanda Pope. Gwyneth, aged 56, was diagnosed with Type 1 diabetes in 1986.

She finds keeping fit helps her to manage the condition and has taken part in a number of activities to raise money for Diabetes UK, including the Stratford marathon in 2007.

Research

Gwyneth said: "The Cannock Chase Bike Ride gives me the chance to return to cycling, which I have enjoyed in the past, and is a great way to raise money for Diabetes UK. The charity invests in research to ultimately find a cure, for people such as my niece, who has recently been diagnosed with Type 1 diabetes after she gave birth to twins in January. I'm looking forward to an enjoyable day out with my sister."

Ellen Jurczak , Diabetes UK's fundraiser in the Midlands, said: "We are hoping for a record turnout this year. The ride offers a variety of routes to suit all the family in this beautiful location at Cannock Chase. "

Call 01889 575170 to reserve a bike. To register contact 01922 614500 or email Midlands@diabetes.org.uk

Burglar is jailed for committing 135th crime

A SERIAL criminal who burgled a woman's house in his latest crime has been jailed for more than two-and-a-half years.

Leigh Boulton's theft of a £700 computer and a purse from a property in Cannock was his 135th criminal offence, Stafford Crown Court heard.

Mr Nick Burn, prosecuting, said police arrested Boulton in Market Street, Hednesford in the early hours of April 5.

The court heard he had been seen carrying a laptop, which they established has been stolen from a property in Dove Hollow.

He was also found with two torches and a pair of gloves, the hearing was told.

by Adam Burling

Purse

The occupier had gone to bed leaving the property secure, but when she got up found the laptop and her mother's purse had gone, the court was told.

The back gate to the house had also been damaged, it was added.

Boulton, aged 34, of High Meadow, Cannock Wood, admitted a charge of burglary.

The court heard that the defendant was liable to a minimum sentence of three years due to laws aimed at cracking down on offenders who repeatedly target people's homes.

And Judge Mark Eades told him: "You are an experienced criminal, only 34, with 51 convictions for 134 previous offences.

"You are now a third strike burglar," he said.

"You were a significant distance from your home with torches and gloves.

"It looks to me like a burglary trip."

The judge said Boulton's sentence should start at four years, but he had to have it discounted by a third because of his guilty plea. He was jailed for 32 months.

Defending Boulton, Mr Nick Ryles said there had been minimal damage to the property and no disturbance inside the house.

Thousands witness memorial dedication

Rt Rev Nigel McCulloch, the former Bishop of Manchester, leads the dedication service in Hednesford

IT has been 10 years in the making. Now all the named bricks to remember thousands of miners have been unveiled at a memorial in Hednesford.

Thousands of people turned out for the dedication of the third and final phase of the monument.

A further 913 named bricks, remembering those who worked in the Cannock Chase coalfields, have been laid around the grass areas by the clock tower in the town centre and adjacent to the iconic Davy Lamp statue.

A special service was led by the Rt Rev Nigel McCulloch, the former Bishop of Manchester.

The project was spearheaded by the Chase Arts in Public Spaces (CHAPS) group.

Project manager Mike Mellor said: "It was a lovely occasion."

After the service, copies of the book 'A Lasting Tribute' were on sale with inserts containing the names of all included in this latest phase.

Uplifting video charts Stephen's achievements

IN his short life he has already achieved more than most people would be able to dream off.

Despite being diagnosed with incurable cancer, 19-year old Stephen Sutton has fronted an appeal which has seen more than £2 million raised for the Teenage Cancer Trust.

Now the Burntwood youngster has released an uplifting video looking at his achievements since his diagnosis.

It features tributes to his fundraising efforts from friends and teachers at his former high school Chase Terrace Technology College.

Stephen Sutton, who has released an uplifting video charting his achievements

Speaking in the video, head teacher Stewart Jones described the teenager as the 'most amazing person I've ever met' while Emma Scholes, head of year nine, said: "He has stuck two fingers up to cancer."

Best friend Chris Bullock added: "He has been my best mate for four years. He knows he is in a bad situation but he makes the best of it."

During the nine-minute clip Stephen also talks about the Bucket List of 46 things he wanted to do before he died, including crowd surfing in a rubber dinghy, skydiving and hugging an animal bigger than himself.

The video was due to be released on Tuesday but after Stephen's health took a turn for the worse, he decided to release it early.

Positive

A message posted on his Facebook page read: "Hi guys, it's Stephen here again, and it feels so good to be able to put that.

"Currently I am feeling well and would describe my current situation as stable. Different people will put my recent physical improvement down to different reasons.

"I don't want to over dramatise things too much, but I do just want to mention that everyone's positive thoughts and support has been hugely appreciated, so thank you for that."

A football match involving West Bromwich Albion All Stars next weekend has been dedicated to Stephen with proceeds from the game also involving Chasetown FC on Sunday (May 4) being donated to the trust.

Former Albion favourites Daryl Burgess, Darren Bradley, Richard Sneekes, Bryan Small and Ian Hamilton will all feature on the pitch at the Scholars Ground in Church Street, Chasetown.Kick off is 3pm. Admission is £3 on the gate for adults and £1 for children. Donations made in Stephen's honour have flooded in from across the globe.

Celebrities have also got behind his fundraising drive.

Sarah Millican and Olympian Sir Chris Hoy are among dozens posting pictures of themselves holding a #thumbsupforstephen sign. Other stars to have given their support include Ronnie Wood and Perez Hilton.

Stephen was diagnosed with bowel cancer when he was 15. Despite the efforts of surgeons, the cancer spread and after further treatment and operations, doctors concluded it was incurable.

Rebel MPs warn fight not yet over on HS2

REBEL MPs have vowed to fight on despite the £50bn high speed rail link being backed – against their wishes – in the House of Commons.

Monday's crucial vote means work on the first phase of the line between London and Birmingham, where two new stations will be built, can now start in 2017.

But the line has faced major opposition, particularly in rural areas, amid concerns it will slice through the countryside.

Tory-controlled Staffordshire County Council is opposed to the line and some county MPs were among a group of 33 Conservatives who rebelled against their own party on the vote.

Favour

In total 41 MPs from across the Commons voted against HS2 while 452 were in favour. And 47 Conservative MPs missed the vote, including Prime Minister David Cameron.

Lichfield MP Michael Fabricant was recently sacked from his post as Conservative vice-chairman, with his opposition to HS2 having played a part. Speaking in the Commons he said: "This is a deeply-flawed system.

"And what about compensation, a topic that has been raised by colleagues? What about constituents in Lichfield who are facing spoil heaps for five or six years?."

He vowed to fight on, adding: "I will continue to work with the HS2 Action Alliance and other local organisations and along with my constituents to try and ensure route changes with petitioners and better terms of compensation for those affected by HS2.

Against, Michael Fabricant – Lichfield

For, Aidan Burley – Cannock Chase

Against, Jeremy Lefroy – Stafford

This will be a long-running struggle." Concerns were also raised over the planned second phase, which will take trains through parts of Stafford and on to a Y-shaped spur to Manchester and Leeds. Jeremy Lefroy, MP for Stafford, said: "What my constituents do not accept is a line constructed with little regard for the communities that it splits and the landscape that it degrades." But among MPs who backed HS2 last night,

Gavin Williamson, Tory MP for South Staffordshire, said: " We need to ensure that there will be long term jobs and benefits from HS2."

As You Lick It – stamp portrait of Bard

With his image of William Shakespeare, made from stamps is artist Peter Mason, of Hednesford

AN artist has used more than 4,000 stamps to create a portrait of William Shakespeare to celebrate the 450th anniversary of the Bard's birth.

Hednesford artist Pete Mason who makes mosaics using British stamps, took five weeks to complete the artwork.

The 70-year-old retired art teacher from Greenheath Road, Hednesford has previously created images of the Queen, Barack Obama, Nelson Mandela and Simon Cowell.

Shakespeare was born in Stratford-Upon-Avon on April 23, 1564. He died on his birthday, April 23, 1616. The stamp creation measures 4ft x 3ft. Mr Mason said: "I have had a lot of interest from the States."

Witness plea after raid

DETECTIVES want to trace two possible witnesses after a robbery at a Rugeley store.

Four workers were threatened and locked in a toilet in a raid on the Co-Op in Queensway, on March 31.

A safe was broken into and an unspecified amount of cash was taken. The incident happened between 5.45 and 6am as staff were opening up.

The staff were unhurt. Police say they want to trace a man and woman who used the ATM outside the store while it was being raided.

DC Paul Whitehouse, investigating officer, said: "We know there were two people using the cash machine outside the store at the time of the incident.

"We're appealing to these two people to contact us. They may not have been aware of what was happening but may have seen the offenders, or a suspicious vehicle, at some point."

The woman used the cash machine at 5.43am. She drove a dark coloured Mk2 Toyota MR2 featuring pop up lights. She wore a dark green top.

At 5.47am a dark coloured medium-sized hatchback, possibly a Vauxhall Astra, drove onto the car park right in front of the ATM. The man was wearing a dark coloured three-quarter length zip top similar to a fleece, blue trousers and white shoes/trainers. Call DC Whitehouse on 101.

Youngsters dip into underwater secrets

NATURE lovers were able to discover what lives in the water at a pond dipping event.

Visitors to Staffordshire Wildlife Trust's headquarters at the Wolseley Centre near Rugeley were given the chance to dip their fishing nets in the water and look at a variety of creatures including stick insects, water scorpions and mayfly larvae.

Youngsters and their parents were able to find out more about the creatures they had caught in a container filled with pond water and identify and learn more about them before releasing them back into the water.

Around 50 children and their parents took part in the event to investigate the habitats of the creatures, and 550 children took part in an Easter egg trail.

Visitor numbers to the centre were the highest in five years over Easter, with almost 2,000 people people taking advantage of the activities on offer over the holiday weekend.

Cathy Taylor, visitor experience co-ordinator, said: "We were delighted that so many people of all ages were able to enjoy the Easter sunshine and our new features including our bird hide."

Doddy for election claims are dismissed

TORY party officials in Cannock Chase have dismissed talk of funnyman Ken Dodd standing for election.

The 86-year-old comedian was said to be in the running to replace sitting MP Aidan Burley, who is to stand down ahead of next year's General Election.

But Cannock Chase Conservative Party chairman Paul Snape said the rumour was 'rubbish.'

by Charlotte Lilley

He said: "This rumour was started by the Labour party around six-weeks-ago in the council chamber. It is just a joke because the selection process for a new candidate has not even started yet.

"The advert is still open so if Ken does want to apply then he can but he is not an approved candidate.

Affiliation

"Ken is 86-years-old and he has performed at the Prince of Wales Theatre for the last 20 years and has always been well received.

"However I think I would prefer someone who is a bit younger and who has more of an affiliation with Cannock."

Dodd was a supporter of the Conservatives under Thatcher and presented her with a tickling stick when she opened a tea shop in Liverpool's Wavertree constituency and introduced her at a 1979 Wembley Arena election rally.

Cannock councillor Janos Toth, Labour's Parliamentary candidate for the constituency, said he was aware of the debate and was ready to put up a fight.

He said: "Whoever the Conservatives put up, I am more than ready for the fight in this key battleground seat. I put Cannock Chase first and I want the best deal for our area.

"I don't have a tickling stick but what Labour has are the policies to benefit residents."

Reel celebration for cinema's 100th year

A LETTER penned by a former projectionist has emerged – as Cannock's cinema marks its 100th birthday.

MEMORY LANE
by Marion Brennan

In the three-page script, Harold Shepherd who started work at The Electric Palace, then called The Picture House, in early 1915, recalled the days of silent films when audiences would be able to hear the sound of cattle being driven to market in the street outside.

Mr Shepherd, who was 76 at the time, wrote a thank you note to staff in 1977 after a visit from Cornwall, where he had retired, to see a relative.

While in the area, he popped into The Picture House to see if it had changed and was shown round by the man who was doing his old job, Chris Ingram. Chris has kept the yellowing type-written letter.

Mr Ingram, 64, a projectionist at the Walsall Road cinema from the mid-1970s to the early 80s, remembers Harold's visit. He said: "He couldn't believe the changes that had taken place and the advances that had been made.

"It's an amazing record to have of someone who remembered the place when it first opened."

The Electric Palace was the first purpose-built cinema in Cannock. The original 650-seater cinema opened on April 6, 1914 and was extended twice in six years to accommodate 1,500 avid film-goers.

The arrival of television in the 1950s and more recently the growth of multi-screen cinemas and digital technology has seen many of the old cinemas shut.

But while the name has changed under various owners – it has also been known as the Essoldo, the Classic and the Cannon – the former Picture House has stood its ground.

Mr Ingram was eight years old when he was first taken there by his older brother Terry.

"The film was The Vikings starring Kirk Douglas and Tony Curtis. It was 1958 and what I remember most was how cosy it was.

"I used to run home from school and try and get to the Picture House before 5pm. If you were a minute after the price went up from a shilling to a shilling and ninepence. If I got there in time I could spend the extra ninepence on sweets.

"There used to be a real buzz about going to the pictures back then. For me the cinema has lost its ambience."

After a five-year closure, the venue reopened in November 2009.

Current owner Graeme Cotton said: "The fact that it is still here, still showing films100 years after opening its doors is worth celebrating."

Eryn's following in mother's footsteps

Eryn Willetts is taking part in the World Lupus Day Walk – but wants to run 'just like her mommy'

A THREE-year-old girl is to follow in her mother's footsteps by talking part in a fundraising run.

Eryn Willetts, of Hednesford, will take part in the World Lupus Day Walk over Cannock Chase on May 10 – but wants to run 'just like her mommy' and get a medal.

The event has been organised by the Hibbs Lupus Trust to raise awareness of and funds for the condition. A two and five-mile walk is on offer, starting out from the Visitor Centre at Marquis Drive.

Eryn's mother Juliet, who has run half marathons in Birmingham and Stafford, the Cannock Chase 10k and a 5k Canix run with their rottweiler, is also taking part.

The 37-year-old, who runs the K9 Club dog training scheme, said: "I am very proud of Eryn wanting to run the race. It was completely her decision. Her words were 'I want to run it like you do mommy and then I can get a medal like you'.

"She is really looking forward to it and asked for her own running shoes, water bottle and a watch to run fast like me." Eryns has already raised more than £100 in sponsorship. Visit her http://www.justgiving.com/Juliet-Davies5

£400,000 of benefits' cheats cash recouped

NEARLY £400,000 has been recouped from benefit cheats in Burntwood and Lichfield, new figures have revealed.

Benefit fraud investigators have carried out 219 investigations in the past year with 14 prosecutions and 36 penalties. A total of £399,708 has been collected up from £135,259 in the previous year.

The figures are revealed in a a report to Lichfield District Council's audit committee which was discussing the findings this week.

by Rob Golledge

The report states: "Benefit and council tax support lost to fraudulent and erroneous claims is a major financial drain on the council.

Warning

"Therefore our aim is to prevent fraud and error from occurring, detect it when it does happen, educate our customers to their responsibilities and deter customers from committing acts of benefit fraud."

The council said it would continue to publicise successful prosecutions to send out a warning to other residents.

The Government launched an attack on benefit cheats in 2010. It also introduced the idea of a Single Fraud Investigation Service to tackle all Welfare Benefit and Tax Credit fraud, consisting of Investigation staff from the Department for Work and Pensions, Her Majesty's Customs and Revenues and Local Authorities.

It was introduced in November 2012 in four pilot areas and it was confirmed in the Chancellor's autumn statement that it will roll-out nationally over an 18 month period between October 2014 and March 2016.

Figures estimate that benefit and tax credits fraud is around £1.9 billion per year whereas other fraud against local authorities is around £2.1 billion.

Business launches its new wheelchair at show

A BURNTWOOD business was this week unveiling its new wheelchair design at the Birmingham NEC.

Bosses behind RGK Wheelchairs' new TIGA fx say it is set to revolutionise the way that wheelchair users travel. It was launched on Tuesday.

The wheelchair is designed to fold – in less than a minute – front first rather than in the traditional 'clunky sideways' style and can be stowed in small spaces such as in an aircraft cabin locker, removing the need for storage in baggage holds and reducing risk of damage.

It was being launched at the UK's largest independent living and mobility showcase Naidex National Show, which runs at the NEC until tomorrow (Friday).

By John Corser

RGK, of Burntwood Business Park, employs around 40 people and is a UK leader in bespoke wheelchair design and manufacturing.

Co-founders and directors Russel Simms and Greg Eden are both wheelchair users.

Commercial director Mr Simms said: "We are excited at this new addition to the RGK portfolio which can overnight become a passport for travel to wheelchair users worldwide.

"The TIGA fx builds on our heritage of innovation in design and materials," he added.

"For a long time wheelchairs have been clunky and a hassle, something we at RGK are trying to change.

"TIGA fx brings to life what we believe a wheelchair should be – light, strong and practical – and in many cases will open up access and rights to travel that have denied too many people for far too long."

Pressure

Sir Philip Craven, president of the International Paralympic Committee, said: "This incredible new wheelchair is going to take all the pressure and stress out of flying and will make it more enjoyable for wheelchair users."

Sir Philip clocks up tens of thousands of miles a year and has been flying for 45 years.

"I'm in planes all the time and not knowing whether my chair will be at the aircraft door upon arrival, has been the bane of my life," he added.

Coffee date in support of Stephen

A COFFEE morning to raise funds for the Teenage Cancer Trust is being held at Chasetown Methodist Church next weekend.

The Regnal Circle, a men's group which meets at the church, planned the event after young cancer sufferer Stephen Sutton spoke at one of its meetings.

Secretary Terry Trigg said: "Stephen gave us an inspiring talk about his diagnosis with and treatment for cancer.

"We were impressed by his positive attitude and acceptance of his condition and the motivation it had given him to achieve his bucket list and fundraise for the Teenage Cancer Trust."

The circle had set itself effort to fit in the monthly pattern of fundraising coffee mornings at the church in Lawnswood Avenue.

"We did not expect that Stephen's fundraising appeal would have gone global as it has in the past week," added Mr Trigg.

"But we are pleased to be supporting this, even if we are, comparatively speaking, a small drop in a big bucket."

The event is on Saturday, May 10 from 10am to 1pm. Refreshments and cakes will be on sale and there will be a raffle.

Waxing lyrical to boost campaign

Having his chest waxed is Sam Daly with his thumbs up for Stephen Sutton with Tanzotique staff Jodie Green, Lyndsey Kibble and Paula Tranter

FIFTEEN men had their legs, backs and armpits waxed to support the Stephen Sutton Teenage Cancer Trust fundraising campaign.

They underwent the treatment at the Tanzotique beauty salon in High Street, Chasetown.

Owner Lyndsey Kibble said: "Stephen is local and we really wanted to do something for him. We are hoping to raise £2,000." Staff at the salon also gave their time up for free to do customers' nails and pluck their eyebrows in return for a donation. There was also a raffle and cup cakes up for sale.

Options for revamp of beauty spot

COUNCILLORS are considering a number of options to bring a beauty spot back to its former glory.

Among the ideas for the revamp at Chasewater Country Park are opening a community farm and creating a haven for watersports. A new education centre and community garden are also being proposed.

The options are being considered to bring the beauty spot back to its former glory.

Staffordshire County Council recently took over the site and bosses immediately said they wanted to introduceimprovements.

At a county council scrutiny meeting last Thursday (April 24), the various options were discussed. It will now go off to cabinet where a final decision will be made.

Burntwood North Councillor Sue Woodward, who sits on the committee, said: "This is good news for the community."

CHASE Terrace Methodist Church holds its annual Spring Fair this Saturday (May 3).

Jacket potato lunches plus a dessert cost £3 and stalls include tombola, bric-a-brac, cake stall and raffle. It takes place from 11am to 2pm at the church in Princess Street.

Church Steward Barbara Bevan said: "All are welcome."

Strictly stars to strut stuff on dancefloor

DANCE fans are in for a strictly fun night as BBC show stars Katya and Pasha return to Cannock.

Pasha Kovalev has been twice runner-up on Strictly Come Dancing, partnering Chelsee Healey and then Kimberley Walsh, while his professional partner Katya Virshilas has appeared in three series.

They bring their stunning new show to the Prince of Wales Centre, in Church Street, for a third successive year in June.

Billed as a carnival of music, dance, costumes and sparkles, the ballroom and latin show kicks off at 7.30pm on Friday, June 27.

The stunning choreography will be complemented by an array of lighting and special effects as the pair, accompanied by a dance troupe, also perform the cha cha cha, rumba, waltz and paso doble.

Strictly dancers Pasha Kovalev and Katya Virshilas

Classic

Audience participation is also a key part of the show. Tickets are £23.

For dance fans that cannot wait that long, Ballet Theatre UK presents the Little Mermaid on Wednesday, May 21, from 7.30pm.

Tickets for the re-telling of the Hans Christian Andersen classic range from £18 to £10.

The fabulous band of travelling native Americans, otherwise known as 'The Indians' have been accepted as one of Ireland's most successful bands over the past four decades and display their unique style at the Prince of Wales on May 23, from 7.30pm.

Lead singer Big Chief Geronimo is regarded as one of the best vocalists and entertainers on the Irish band scene and the five-piece band will entertain the audience with their brand of country/pop, Irish and ballads.

Billy Pearce, the Sooty Show and tribute band the Bon Jovi Experience complete the month ahead, while top events in June include former X Factor, Pop Star to Opera Star and The Jump winner Joe McElderry, the Rodgers & Hammerstein Songbook, Abbamania and the Billy Fury story retold in Halfway to Paradise.

For all show details and tickets, call the box office on 01543 578762.

HOME AND GARDEN

TV gardening guru Alan Titchmarsh is looking forward to getting his hands dirty at RHS Chelsea Flower Show this year.

Instead of wearing a sharp suit to present the show, for the first time in 30 years, he will be wearing a pair of gloves and designing a garden instead.

Obviously, there's a substantial chance it will be rather good too – not only is Titchmarsh one of the country's best-known gardening presenters, but back in 1985, when Titchmarsh last designed a garden at the prestigious Chelsea, he was awarded an RHS Gold Medal for his Country Kitchen garden.

Alan is enjoying producing his own exhibit for the show

Volunteers

He will also be joining forces with another RHS Chelsea Flower Show Gold Medal winner, Kate Gould, to create From The Moors To The Sea – a celebration of 50 years of the RHS Britain in Bloom campaign, to represent how 300,000 volunteers help to make Britain bloom and explore Alan's relationship with horticulture through his life.

"It's 50 years since I started work as an apprentice, so I thought I could either do a 1960s-style garden through to the 21st century, but the sixties were a bit dull, all rose beds and lawns.

"So I thought, why don't I demonstrate where I first started, which was the Yorkshire moors, up to where I garden now, on the coast on the Isle of Wight? So we will be sloping from moorland at the back, with dry stone walls, coming down to a seaside garden at the front. It's 50 years of 'my journey', to use the X Factor phrase.

"It's also showing the British Isles and its variety. Being a cool temperate set of islands, the range we can grow is incredibly wide and this will show the richness of the British Isles."

He'll be featuring pines, heathers and birches from the moorland, through wild flowers, down to seaside plants including echiums and cabbage palms. It will be a 10m by 15m microcosm of British gardens and landscapes.

It sounds great, but how does Titchmarsh feel about not presenting the Chelsea coverage for the first time in 30 years? Last year Titchmarsh announced he was stepping down from the BBC's coverage of Chelsea after programme-makers offered him a more 'limited' role, although he remains RHS vice president and first ambassador.

"[I feel] wonderful," he insists.

"I'm putting a show garden together – I've done it before and I love doing it. It's technically an exhibit but will look like a show garden. It's not being judged but the same criteria and standard of finish will have to be there.

"I've moved on, there was disappointment but it's gone, I'm over it. There's no point in dwelling on things."

New creations – and an old favourite

Three Short Works, Crescent Theatre, Birmingham

Birmingham Royal Ballet began their home city's fourth international dance festival with a triple bill of three short works showcasing new creations and reviving an old favourite.

BRB dancer Kit Holder followed up his exciting Paper Jam and his 2012 festival offering 9-5 with Quatrain. This angular work with its hanging backdrop of steel sculpture featured moves inspired by tango danced to brittle music, played on solo violin superbly by Royal Ballet Sinfonia leader Robert Gibbs. Technically demanding movement but lacking tango passion.

The second world premiere piece, by former BRB dancer Alexander Whitley, was also danced to string music. Kin was all about fluid movement and dynamic energy. It began with a lithe and liquid solo from Principal Jenna Roberts. The Australian dancer also gave an eye-catching performance in the final traditional piece, Les Rendezvous, a delightful ballet by Frederick Ashton harking back to the company's 1930s origins. The colourful costumes and charming theme of friends meeting in a park was witty and elegant.

Les Rendezvous will be performed alongside Facade and Dante Sonata in a triple bill at Birmingham Hippodrome from June 4-7.

Leon Burakowski

Lining up treats for music fans

ICONIC flautist and lead vocalist of Jethro Tull, Ian Anderson is coming to Symphony Hall, Birmingham on Saturday.

He is touring on the back of his new album Homo Erraticus.

The Joe Topping Trio will be at the The Red Lion Folk Club, Vicarage Road, Kings Heath, Birmingham the following Wednesday. The trio are Joe, Steve Parry and Jack McCarthy.

It will be a family affair at the MAC Birmingham when two of the best-known names in folk, Martin and Eliza Carthy play there on Saturday.

Wulfrunian Daniel Kirk will be playing an outdoor fundraising concert on Sunday. Daniel is on the bill with a host of others for the Hey Ho! event for Roy Castle's Lung Cancer Foundation. The event is at Highfields Social Club, Barnes Road, Stafford.

The Junction Festival Fundraiser is to be held in Wolverhampton tomorrow at the Clarendon Hotel, Chapel Ash as a taster for the main festival in July.

Happy Days The Musical, Birmingham Hippodrome

HEEEYY! Happy Days are here again. And this time in musical form.

Ben Freeman starred as everyone's favourite cool guy Fonze, with Heidi Range (Pinky Tuscadero) and Cheryl Baker (Marion Cunningham) also taking lead roles.

But it was good to see the whole cast given a chance to shine, with everyone in fine voice and faultless in delivery. James Patterson as Howard Cunningham bore the most striking resemblance to the characters' television counterparts.

The Al's Diner everyone knew from TV was replaced by Arnold's for the stage show and the story centred on the battle to save it from closure. To do so, the Fonz had to wrestle the Malachi brothers. The slow motion fight scenes were very well done and the fast-paced scenery changes ensured the audience kept their eyes on proceedings. It was a watchable production, if short on belly laughs, but with some stand-out lines.

The best line was left to Baker, who when presented with a possible list of cocktails to make, quipped: "I have trouble making my mind up" before then adding: "Ooh, Bucks Fizz!"

Hampton Court Palace Flower Show

Pick of the week

Two days departing July 12

PRICE FROM £149.95

If you like gardens and flower shows then you will love the RHS Hampton Court Palace Flower Show because its the biggest in the world, showcasing the best design ideas you will find anywhere.

The themes of seven sins, community, and a garden called 'Essence of Australia' that recreates the feel of the Australian Garden at Melbourne's Botanic Gardens, all feature in the list of show gardens this year.

There are hundreds of the UK's best nurseries in the floral marquees, plus concept gardens galore. The Take Hampton Home displays will demonstrate how to do creative and unique things even on a modest budget.

Pergolas, lawnmowers, stone, bamboo, greenhouses, ponds, barbecues, sundials, fountains are just a few of the gadgets and gifts available, if its garden related its at the show.

In Windsor there will be plenty of time to explore the area, maybe stroll down the Long Walk in Windsor Great Park, wander in Windsor forest, or even take a short boat trip along the Thames from Windsor Promenade (payable locally).

Gamers will fall for this titanic title

Leon Burakowski reviews the latest crop of video games, including Titanfall

TITANFALL (EA, 16) is going to be one of the biggest gaming hits of the year. The futuristic shooter delivers fast-moving thrills but is for online gamers with an Xbox Live subscription.

I reviewed on Xbox 360 and the dedicated servers seem to be doing a good job of matching up players to enter the online battles. Respawn Entertainment have created a no-nonsense game that borrows elements from the Call of Duty franchise (some of the same developers), blockbuster sci-fi movie Pacific Rim, a little of the look of Halo and some ideas from cult game Section 8.

A training programme, in which you learn to run along walls and nifty battle moves, is over in a few minutes and then you are ready to enter the fray.

You can choose campaign or classic mode, and the latter has various mission objectives but it's best to start with Attrition in which you face your enemy on one of several worlds involved in the human civil war between the IMC and rebels called The Militia.

You literally jump into the action as a heavily armed soldier but things get really interesting when you can call down your Titan. These are a combination of high-tech suit of armour and a walking tank, including the seriously chunky Ogre.

There is something rather satisfying about seeing your Titan making its spectacular landing and then clambering aboard to get your own back on those grunts that were harassing you a few moments before. Of course, things get a little tricky when you have to take on the enemy Titans.

Watch out here comes a Titan

The LEGO version of Thorin Oakenshield

The only gripe is that the environments are little more than backgrounds but that is perhaps due to the makers' emphasis on action above all else.

Titanfall delivers the thrills for those looking for the next generation of high adrenaline action.

Dark Souls II (Namco Bandai, 16) is more a perfected version of the original fantasy than a true sequel. It has an atmospheric soundtrack and the theme of a damned wanderer in a ruined kingdom has the feel of a gloomier Skyrim or Fable. The graphics, as seen on Xbox 360, are an odd mix, sometimes superb and other times looking like a much older game. Despite online co-op available, it is more for those who prefer to quest alone with some formidable boss villains to overcome.

A favourite fantasy gets that blocky, quirky comedy treatment in LEGO The Hobbit (WB Games, 7) with Bilbo, Gandalf the wizard, dwarves and dragon in an expansive LEGO-ficaton of Middle Earth.

An old classic returns with several of its sequels in Namco Bandai's Pac-Man Museum (3), downloadable from Xbox Live Arcade.

The original version of the little yellow muncher is still the best and, coin-op nostalgia apart, remains addictive. There is also fun to be had with the strange neon acid house-like Championship Edition and Pac-Man turning cannibal in Battle Royal.

Pac-Man and the Ghostly Adventures (Namco, 7) wakka-wakkas the familiar yellow ball into a 3D environment in a downloadable platform game for the Nintendo 3DS.

It's decent update for the character, drawn from the latest children's cartoon spin-off but is nothing special, and I think this video game veteran deserves better.

WILLENHALL'S Ann Skitt retrieves her bike from the garage, deftly fixes a slipped chain, and is ready "to go anywhere."

A young–at-heart 75-year-old, she oozes charisma and charm, still goes to the gym "when she needs to shed a few pounds" and is the life and soul of the party at her local Young At Heart Club where she is a volunteer worker.

It's hard to imagine that his retired assembly worker could ever be knocked back. But failing teeth "became an embarrassment," she recalls. Recently she was fitted with implant-retained dentures, inspired by a newspaper article on Steven Burchell's work at the Denture Clinic.

She says: "You don't realise how having bad teeth can affect you until you have treatment like this and you get the confidence back. The whole shape of my mouth has changed. I could not have wished for better treatment. My care was first class and Steven has become like family to us."

Suction solution

is this the answer for you?

A CUTTING-EDGE development to help resolve the stability problems faced by thousands of denture wearers is being offered by the Denture Clinic.

Steven Burchell Dip CDT RCS(Eng) GDC108353, who heads the teams at his North Street practice in Dudley, and other clinics across the region, says the invention has the potential to resolve all-too-common denture stability issues.

Prosthetics are held in place by tiny valve-operated suction devices which are built into the prescription. A clever diaphragm principle, triggered by bite pressure on patients' gums, creates a 'sucking' vacuum between the soft-tissue mouth lining and the prosthetic.

Steven, whose clinics attracts patients from as far as Spain, the Isle of Skye and the Isle of Anglesey, adds: "The denture revolution is evolving at a frightening pace.

"In recent times we have seen, what I can describe only as strident steps forward, with implant-retained over-dentures, 'teeth-in-a-day' implant procedures and suction solution dentures, all coming into main-stream dentistry.

"We also have clever injection moulding technology which allows excellent fitting outcomes and our clinical solutions have never been so appealing.

"Implant dentistry as a resolve for stabilisation issues is not suitable for everyone, neither is it all patients' first preference, but the Ultra Suction prosthetics offer yet another possibility.

The Ultra Suction system is available for both top and lower dentures, enables the construction of a plateless top denture and can be successfully used in reline work

"The beauty of this affordable technology is that it can deliver for the right patient excellent denture retainer qualities without the invasive clinical procedures required for implant work. We have always endeavoured to be on the very cusp of clinical development and this is another 'tool 'in our commitment to ever-try to deliver results which are greater than patient expectations.

"Lower dentures can often be troublesome as stability is compromised by shrinking gums and bone erosion – it's all part of the ageing process. Ill-fitting dentures create painful friction problems on gums and not least, be a source of compromised chewing and embarrassment."

Reduction

Steven adds: "The device can be mounted on upper or lower teeth and because of its efficiency allows us to consider a reduction in the size of the acrylic 'plate' which can result in improved speech and taste."

Typically, Denture Clinic patients will be assigned more than three-and-a-half clinical hours surgery time in achieving the best possible outcome.

Dentures have traditionally never been associated with cosmetic makeovers, "but our high-quality prosthetics have quite literally taken years off some of our patients," says Steven. "Can dentures look glamorous? Emphatically, yes – we have taken years off the appearance of some of our patients."

French diva of dance is to provide festival highlight

ONE of the finest dancers of the age will be bringing her dynamism and fluid movement to Birmingham Hippodrome in one of the highlights of Birmingham International Dance Festival.

French ballet and contemporary dancer Sylvie Guillem, who was principal female dancer at the Paris Opera Ballet in the 1980s after her sensational performances as a teenager in Rudolf Nureyev's Don Quixote, will present 6,000 Miles Away.

It is a collection of three dance pieces, two in which the 49-year-old dance star features.

Sylvie Guillem in performance

Tempest

Staged on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 6 and 7, the programme devised by Guillem includes choreographer William Forsythe's duet Rearray; Mats Ek's Bye, a solo for Guillem set to music by Beethoven; and ensemble piece 27'52" by Jiri Kylian featuring dancers picked by Guillem.

Canadian choreographer Crystal Pite is influenced by Shakespeare's The Tempest for Tempest Replica being performed by her Kidd Pivot dance company at the Hippodrome tomorrow night (Friday) and Saturday.

The Symphony Hall becomes a dance festival venue for the first time when Quebec's Cas Public team up with the Ex Cathedra choir for Concert Danse tomorrow, also featuring Kathak dancer Aakash Odedra and members of Birmingham Royal Ballet. Aakash has his own shows Murmur and Inked at the Patrick Centre in the Hippodrome on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Next Thursday to Saturday Montreal contemporary circus troupe Les 7 doigts de la main (the 7 fingers of the hand) bring their blend of acrobatics, dance and theatre to Birmingham Rep in Sequence 8.

Rocker Joe joins the War

THERE will be fireworks when the final arena tour of Jeff Wayne's The War of the Worlds comes to Birmingham LG Arena on November 5.

The spectacular show will feature Jason Donovan and West End star Carrie Hope Fletcher. Joining them is Wolverhampton's X Factor rocker Joe Whelan as The Voice of Humanity. The line-up also features X Factor 2005 winner Shayne Ward, Westlife singer Brian McFadden and Jeff Wayne will be conducting the 36-piece Ulladubulla Strings.

Effects include the 35-foot tall Martian Fighting Machine and, for the first time, the Victorian author of The War of the Worlds, HG Wells will appear at the event, via modern technology rather than The Time Machine he wrote about.

Tickets for the sixth and final tour cost £38.50.

Flash dancers come Mob-handed

STRICTLY meets street dance in Flash Mob, ashow that unites some of the most exciting talents on the dance scene, coming to Wolverhampton and Birmingham this summer.

Britain's Got Talent outfit Flawless will team up with Strictly Come Dancing professionals Kevin Clifton, who was partnered with Susanna Reid, and his fiancé Karen Hauer, who partnered Hairy Biker Dave Myers in the series.

Flash Mob also features contemporary dancers Alleviate and Irish fusion couple Brosena from Sky's Got To Dance, plus Tommy Franzen of So You Think You Can Dance. It is at the New Alexandra Theatre on June 27 and the Grand Theatre on July 15 and 16.

Singing Cavern true to its name

THE Singing Cavern, deep under Dudley Castle and accessed via the canal tunnel, will live up to its name when Cradley Heath Male Voice Choir perform at this most unusual of venues on Saturday, May 17.

Tickets for the 7.30pm concert cost £10.80 including boat transport in and out of the cavern by Dudley Canal Trust.

The concert is one of a series of events including a screening of silent classic The Phantom of the Opera with live musical accompaniment on June 28 (£15).

For tickets or information contact Dudley Canal Trust on 0121 557 6265.

It's all about McBusted now

MCBUSTED, featuring members of boy bands Busted and McFly, still have a huge following judging by their four gigs at the LG Arena this month.

James Bourne and Matt Willis will join McFly's Tom Fletcher, Danny Jones, Dougie Poynter and Harry Judd to form the six-piece supergroup. So expect to hear Year 3000 and All About You in the same set when McBusted play the LG tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday, then again on May 17 and 27.

The notable absence, former Busted singer Charlie Simpson, continues his solo career after 2012 album Young Pilgrim. Catch up with him at Birmingham's Academy 2 venue on Thursday, May 15.

Grand illusion will be Infamous

WITH a combination of psychology and showmanship, Derren Brown has made the art of illusion hip again in several TV shows — in which he has regularly baffled and amazed viewers.

But he is probably at his most potent live, as audiences will discover when he brings his show Infamous, the sequel to the hugely popular Svengali, to Wolverhampton Grand Theatre from Monday to Saturday, May 10.

Tickets cost £32.50-£37.50, call 01902 429212.

The show, directed by Andy Nyman, is not suitable for under-12s.

The Guess List (BBC1, 9.20pm)

Lined up in Rob Brydon's comedy crosshairs this week are I'm A Celebrity... winner and tunesmith Kian Egan; Kate Silverton; David Walliams, Tess Daly and the man he's spent years impersonating, Ronnie Corbett. His golfing buddy proves to be as amiable as ever, especially as he delivers one of the best gags of the night regarding their recent match on the fairway, "Played nine holes," says Ronnie. "Fell down four." The big question is: will contestants James and Jan manage to fill in the (blankety) blanks when asked questions such as: 'According to a recent survey, what most annoys the British public?' Let's hope so.

BBC1

6.00 Breakfast. 10.00 Saturday Kitchen Live. 11.30 Nigellissima. (R) 12.00 Football Focus. 12.45 Saturday Sportsday. 1.00 BBC News; Weather. 1.15 Live Snooker: The World Championship. 4.30 Final Score. 5.10 Film: Madagascar: Escape 2 Africa. (2008) Animated comedy sequel, with the voice of Ben Stiller.

6.30 BBC News; Regional News.

6.50 Pointless Celebrities. Alexander Armstrong invites contestants related to the world of crime – either real or fictional – to take part in the game show. They are Lisa Maxwell and Mark Wingett, who starred in The Bill, one-time Crimewatch presenter Sue Cook and investigative journalist Donal MacIntyre, Bad Girls actors Helen Fraser and Jack Ellis, and detective-fiction writers Laura Wilson and Mark Billingham. Who'll be best when it comes to being worst? Richard Osman is the one with the answers.

7.40 The National Lottery: In It to Win It. Dale Winton presents the quiz in which five contestants pit their wits to scoop a big cash prize. Only those in the winners' row will have a chance of taking home the loot, so they will need to get all the answers right – as well as a little bit of luck on their side.

8.30 Casualty. An adult reading lesson ends in disaster when a woman grows jealous of her tutor's girlfriend and inadvertently causes her to end up in hospital suffering from an asthma attack. But that proves to be just the start of the trio's problems. An elderly woman and her two grandchildren make plans to have the best day ever, but things start to go downhill when the granny feels pains in her chest and one of the kids tumbles off a climbing frame. Dixie faces her disciplinary meeting, having moved a patient without permission, Connie raises concerns about Zoe's methods and Fletch's moonlighting as a taxi driver catches up with him.

9.20 The Guess List. David Walliams, Ronnie Corbett, Kian Egan, Tess Daly and Kate Silverton help contestants answer all sorts of everyday questions.

7.05 For the Love of Cars. Life on Mars star Philip Glenister and renowned car designer Ant Anstead scour barns and lock-ups across the nation on a mission to restore six classic British motors. (R)

8.00 Grand Designs. Kevin McCloud follows a project to renovate and extend a classic 1920s cinema in Thorne, South Yorkshire. With little knowledge of restoration, Gwyn and Kate boldly set about turning the dilapidated building into a family home using masses of concrete after taking advice from an architect friend. The couple are hoping to create a hydraulic glass wall that opens up one side of the house to form a UV-filtered canopy, and there are also plans for a white roof extension that resembles a diving board. (R)

9.00 Film: Green Zone. (2010) A military officer is sent to Iraq after the downfall of Saddam Hussein on a mission to find the weapons of mass destruction that were used to justify the invasion – only to be warned by a CIA agent that no such devices exist. As he continues his fruitless search, he discovers evidence of a political conspiracy. Paul Greengrass' thriller, starring Matt Damon.

7.10 5 News Weekend.

7.15 Longmire. A convicted murderer released early from jail is found mauled to death by a bear in the woods and Walt has to open a murder investigation when the man is discovered to have been sedated and baited with steak. Meanwhile, Branch has to deal with his gun-toting uncle causing trouble at his retirement home. Guest starring Peter Weller (RoboCop, 24), who also directed the episode.

8.00 NCIS. The bodies of two dishonourably discharged officers are found on board a boat belonging to Gibbs, and inquiries cast suspicion on his mentor, retired agent Mike Franks. The case proves to have wider implications – and the team finds itself battling to prevent an international confrontation. Starring Mark Harmon, David McCallum, Cote de Pablo, Michael Weatherly and Pauley Perrette. (R)

9.00 NCIS. The team delves into Vance's troubled past in a desperate effort to trap a vengeful female assassin named Lee Wuan Kai. Although she is determined to strike back at him by targeting his family, it gradually transpires that there is another deeper motive for her crimes. Crime drama, guest starring Kelly Hu, with Mark Harmon, Rocky Carroll and Pauley Perrette. (R)

CHOICE

Philip Glenister

For the Love of Cars (Channel 4, 8pm)

All too often, when actors ditch fiction in favour of factual roles, it can end up feeling somewhat awkward – especially if the thesp in question has little knowledge of or enthusiasm for their chosen subject. However, Philip Glenister seems the natural choice to co-present this tempting documentary, alongside renowned car designer Ant Anstead. The six-part series follows the pair as they scour barns and lock-ups across the nation on a mission to restore six classic British motors to their former glory, beginning as Ant tracks down a Triumph Stag in a scrapyard, and sets about giving it a new lease of life.

7.00 Countryfile. Ellie Harrison explores hills and mountains, including one that is up for sale, and presents archive items on a similar theme, including the challenges of farming on a slope. Including Weather for the Week Ahead.

8.00 Antiques Roadshow. Fiona Bruce and the experts pay a second visit to the Royal Marines Museum in Southsea, near Portsmouth, where members of the public bring along their treasured antiques and collectibles. Items include a Jolly Roger flag flown by the crew of a British submarine during the Second World War, a wine glass that's at the centre of a domestic dispute and a creepy-looking doll.

9.00 The Crimson Field. Grace is threatened by Major Ballard, the aggressively rude and war-scarred commander of a Sikh regiment who would rather be with his men than at rest on the wards. She eventually manages to calm him with her knowledge of India but as she tries to discover what has made him so angry, the arrival of another young soldier sets him off again. Can she get to the bottom of her patient's temper? As Joan waits for news from her fiance, Jaco calls her to an illicit meeting, sparking a series of events which draw her into danger, and Flora decides the volunteers should put on some entertainment to raise spirits – but as the pressure mounts, so do her nerves.

10.00 BBC News; Regional News.

10.25 Have I Got a Bit More News for You. Jack Dee presents this extended edition of Friday's show, in which Ian Hislop and Paul Merton are joined by comedienne Bridget Christie.

Subsequent programmes subject to change.

6.00 Australia with Simon Reeve. The adventurer begins a journey across the country, discovering how the camel is threatening the fragile desert ecosystem in the heart of Australia. (R)

7.00 Live Snooker: The World Championship. Hazel Irvine presents all the action from the second session of the final at Sheffield's Crucible Theatre, where a further nine frames are scheduled to take place. The second session of last year's final took on a similar pattern to the first, with Ronnie O'Sullivan winning five frames to move into a 10-7 lead heading into the final day against Barry Hawkins. The commentary team features five former world champions in Dennis Taylor, Steve Davis, John Parrott, Ken Doherty and Stephen Hendry.

Pick of the Week

James lives the dream as duo hit the road

When Corden Met Barlow, Monday, BBC1, 9pm

There's a theory that at some point in recent years James Corden and Gary Barlow signed a deal which ensured they would dominate British TV screens for a chunk of the Noughties, and beyond.

Given the former's work on Gavin & Stacey, not to mention his success on stage, there's perhaps little wonder. As for Gary, well he's more ubiquitous than Deirdre Barlow these days, with assorted excellent shows, whether raising money for Comic Relief, visiting the troops in Afghanistan or welcoming in the New Year in a dazzling BBC1 extravaganza.

We didn't really need another show paying tribute to the multi-award winning singer/songwriter, although with an online campaign attempting to get one of his old singles to number one, there is an added degree of topicality. So settle back 'GBArmy' and Cordenites and enjoy their version of The Trip.

No impressions of Ronnie Corbett alas, but we do follow Gary's long career, from how it began; the Take That phenomenon; the wilderness years, and the darker times which inspired his lyrics.

After a lengthy intro, in which James loads up Gary's Range Rover with random items of baggage, they talk about stag dos and the fact that Barlow has chosen now to make a documentary like this to "close the door on a pretty rubbish time." Of course given the fact he's just performed at a sold out arena tour around the UK, it's easy to forget that a decade ago there seemed like little chance of that being possible.

In 2004, Take That were history, Barlow's debut album wasn't the success many had hoped for, and it looked like his days under the spotlight had come and gone.

However, in recent years he's staged a Lazarus-like comeback, scoring a string of chart smashes as the reformed Take That rekindled the interest of their fans, and won over a new generation of followers. Their hugely successful gigs, either as a four piece or with original group member Robbie Williams, wowed the masses, while Barlow's aforementioned solo shows left his thousands of fans hoarse with delight.

In this show, he and James visit key places in Gary's career, including the Working Men's Club where Barlow learned his craft with 600 or so performances. "I've always felt older, and I've always felt, whether I was in the band or whatever situation I was in, I was the responsible one," Gary tells James. First stop is the studio where Barlow and his band rehearse for the gigs while a starstruck Corden looks on.

Then there's a trip down memory lane as we are treated to clips and photos from Gary's formative years; his impressive rendition of The Way You Make Me Feel, complete with stage kick is priceless. Later, they visit the nightclub where Take That first auditioned, and there are laughs as Gary surprises one of his own fans on their wedding day. Among the contributors are Elton John, Robbie, Gary's mother and members of the Press and music industry.

MONDAY
Draw It!
Channel 4, 4.30pm
Remember the 1990s series Win, Lose or Draw, in which two teams comprising of celebrities and ordinary mortals competed in a game that involved one person drawing an object or phrase, and the others guessing what they're attempting to depict? Well, it's back – sort of. Draw It! is certainly along very similar lines, a kind of TV version of Pictionary in which two teams – one headed by Nadia Sawalha, the other by Anton du Beke and both featuring a member of the public – tackle timed drawing challenges. After three rounds, the team with the least points leaves, and the one remaining takes part in a final game that could see them win a bundle, or walk away with nothing. Mel Giedroyc hosts.

The Island with Bear Grylls
Channel 4, 9pm
We may moan about how stressful and demanding it is, but is modern life actually dulling our survival instincts? This new series find out if British men still now how to rough it, as adventurer Bear Grylls takes a group of 13 blokes and essentially abandons them on a remote, uninhabited Pacific island with just the clothes on their backs and a few basic tools. Will they resort to rise to challenge, or will they resort to Lord of the Flies-style savagery, interspersed with bouts of sobbing? Just making it through the first episode is going to be tough, as Bear drops the group of at their new home, where they are forced to battle through dense overgrowth in search of shelter.

TUESDAY
Miller's Mountain
BBC1, 10.40pm
The Beeb has dusted down the Comedy Playhouse format in the hope of finding a gem of an idea worth turning a full series. Last week we were treated to the promising Over to Bill, while this time it's Miller's Mountain, which focuses on the antics of Jimmy Miller and his fellow Mountain Rescue volunteers. Veteran Jimmy takes new volunteer Conor under his wing, introducing him to dog-obsessed Bill, chirpy head of operations Bernie and Jules, the local pub barmaid. All seems to go well until somebody actually needs to be rescued from the nearby mountain... Jimmy Chisholm, Kevin Guthrie and Sharon Rooney head the cast. Will we see it in the future as a series? Only time will tell...

WEDNESDAY
The Supervet
Channel 4, 8pm
You can tell Noel Fitzpatrick is no ordinary animal doctor – for a start, he has two very cool nicknames. According to the title of this new series, he's the Supervet but he's also known as the Bionic Vet – and that's because he runs one of the most advanced practices in Britain. Neil and his team of over a hundred surgeons, nurses, ward attendants and physiotherapists use some of the most cutting-edge treatments available to cure pets from across the country that might otherwise be considered beyond saving. In this first episode, David, Gill and their son Freddie are pinning their hopes on Noel as their Labrador Scooby battles a life-threatening tumour in his leg.

Billy Connolly's Big Send Off, Wednesday, ITV, 9pm

Billy Connolly's Big Send Off
ITV, 9pm
Death doesn't have to be morbid – just ask Billy Connolly. The stand-up comedian has always been fascinated with how people deal with their own mortality, and in this documentary he's looking at the many different beliefs and rituals that surround it. He explains: "I'm going to strip away the taboos to reveal that far from the doom and gloom you may expect, the world of death is full of wonderful people doing some extraordinary things." It's a journey that begins at the National Funeral Directors Association convention in Texas, where death is big business, and the items up for sale include an eco death-suit threaded with mushroom spores, which helps to turn corpses into compost.

THURSDAY
Posh Pawn
Channel 4, 8pm
Some TV shows naturally lend themselves to workplace discussion the next day. Not so much Posh Pawn, for fear of being overheard and misunderstood. Dodgy homophones aside, though, this series following high-end pawnbroker James Constantinou is proving endlessly entertaining. This week, a former model named Cathy wants to start her own lingerie business, and so brings in her collection of designer bags and jewellery in the hope of securing a £50,000 loan. Meanwhile, James attracts the wrong kind of attention when he takes a client's Ferrari for a spin, and an inventor decides it's time he parted with his precious watch.

FRIDAY
The Minster
BBC2, 8pm
New documentary series filmed over the course of a year that goes behind the scenes at York Minster, beginning during the busy run-up to Easter as head verger Alex Carberry has to overcome a fear of heights to drape a cloth over a giant crucifix. The cathedral's own police force responds to an emergency call and stonemasons prepare to carve a new version of the mysterious weathered figure at the pinnacle of the east window.

The Trip to Italy
BBC2, 10pm
Steve's son Joe and his assistant Emma join him and Rob on the final leg of their culinary tour of Italy as they take the ferry from Naples to Capri, where they have lunch at Il Riccio. Afterwards, Rob asks Emma for advice about whether he should go back to Lucy.

YOUR WEEKLY GUIDE TO HOME BUYING AND LETTING

Timber-framed cottage is bursting with charm

A CHARMING timber-framed thatched cottage in around 0.65 of an acre in Rugeley Road, Armitage is believed to date back to the 15th century.

With feature beams throughout, it is for sale through JR Properties at £499,950 with no chain.

It offers all the lovely features and character that you would expect to find in a property of this period, said a spokesman for the selling agent.

The accommodation comprises an entrance hall, dining room with a quarry tiled floor and a large inglenook fireplace, beautiful sitting room, guest cloakroom, a stunning lounge, a kitchen with cream units and contrasting working surfaces and space for a range cooker in an chimney recess, utility, rear lobby and a shower room.

Upstairs has four bedrooms, a bathroom and a study. For further information contact JR Properties' Rugeley office on 01889 580280 or visit www.jrpropertiesstaffs.com

In cul-de-sac and close to amenities

IN A pleasant cul-de-sac location close to local amenities, this three-bedroomed semi-detached house in Scholars Gate, Brereton, Rugeley is for sale through Vision of Rugeley at £127,950.

With hardwood double glazing and gas central heating it has an entrance hall with laminate flooring, lounge with a gas living flame fire and laminate flooring, breakfast kitchen with oven and hob with an extractor, space for a table and chairs and patio doors to the garden, three bedrooms, a bathroom with a white suite and chrome fittings, off road parking for two vehicles and a sunny rear garden.

For further information contact Vision of Rugeley on 01889 574040 or visit the website at www.visionofrugeley.co.uk

Make most of summer with Audi's top down experience

By David Banner

Longer spring days have just been complemented by the potential for lengthier spells of top-down driving between fuel stops in the new Audi A3 Cabriolet, which this week adopts a 1.6-litre TDI engine capable of over 72mpg.

Drivers who value tenacity in corners and increased capability in adverse weather as highly as economy can also now opt for new quattro all-wheel-drive versions of the 180PS A3 Cabriolet 1.8 TFSI.

The additions to the originally three-strong A3 Cabriolet range can be ordered now, as can new S tronic twin-clutch-equipped versions of the 1.4 TFSI 140PS Cylinder-on-Demand and 2.0 TDI 150PS versions. All the new variants will reach their first UK customers in the summer.

Positioned as the efficiency champion in the cabriolet line-up, the particularly frugal 1.6 TDI lowers CO2 emissions to just 104g/km and can achieve up to 72.4mpg according to the combined cycle test.

Initially available to order exclusively as a six-speed manual, the A3 Cabriolet 1.6 TDI needs 11.4 seconds to reach 62mph from rest and can continue to a top speed of 124mph.

Peak power from the 110PS four-cylinder unit is available between 3,200-4,000rpm and peak torque matches the similarly efficient 1.4 TFSI with Cylinder on Demand at 250Nm between 1,500-3,000rpm.

Customers can choose the all-new A3 Cabriolet 1.6 TDI with SE, Sport or S line specification options, all of which include features such as the MMI Radio with DAB digital reception and powered retractable colour monitor, preparation for SD card-based satellite navigation.

There is also air conditioning or climate control, light and rain sensors and an automatic fabric hood that will open and closes in less than 18 seconds.

Suspension

Sport models also feature the Audi drive select system which fine-tunes driving characteristics, larger 17-inch alloy wheels, lowered sports suspension and front sports seats, while S line models are fitted with 18-inch alloy wheels, Xenon plus headlights with LED daytime running lights and S line interior and exterior design enhancements.

Sport and S line models also feature a fully automatic acoustic fabric hood which is insulated by three layers of fabric to mute road noise even more effectively.

Sun-seekers who also want to enjoy their A3 Cabriolet at its best in less clement weather can also now opt for a 1.8 TFSI petrol model which offers the added reassurance of quattro all-wheel-drive.

At the heart of the all-wheel drive system is a hydraulically actuated and electronically controlled multi-plate clutch which can send power from the front to the rear axle in just a few milliseconds.

In the interest of better axle load distribution, it is located at the end of the prop shaft, in front of the rear differential.

Inside it is a package of plates which rotate in an oil bath.

During normal driving, the clutch sends most of the engine's power to the front wheels, but if they start to break traction it can transfer torque in varying degrees to the rear axle almost instantaneously by pressing the sets of plates together under control.

Peak torque increases from 250Nm in the front-wheel-drive version to 280Nm in the quattro, which combined with the optimal traction helps to bring about a slight improvement in the sprint time to 62mph from 7.8 to 7.6 seconds.

Top speed is 145mph, and combined fuel economy stands at 42.8mpg with emissions of 154g/km

The slick-shifting S tronic transmission is also now more widely available for the A3 Cabriolet, extending its reach to the 1.4 TFSI model with Cylinder on Demand technology and to the 150 PS 2.0 TDI.

Carrying a premium of £1,480 over a manual equivalent in each case, S tronic can operate as a conventional automatic, albeit with exceptionally rapid gear shifts, but also allows drivers to shift gear with the central selector lever or with paddles on the steering wheel.

When going gets tough

By Sharon Walters

Hands up – we all make errors when driving. No-one, and I mean no-one, is perfect.

Sometimes we are taken unawares and have to act pretty quick to get out of trouble. And, thank heavens, the majority of those errors are minor causing no more than a sharp foot on the brake or some evasive action.

Quite often those errors can actually demonstrate how good the cars are which we are driving.

Which is what happened to me when driving the Vauxhall Insignia Country Tourer for the first time. A left turn over an adverse camber which proved tighter than I anticipated, meant for a moment I was half expecting to lose control. But no, road-holding was excellent, mainly due to the four-wheel drive system. This system, which underpins the Country Tourer version of the Insignia range, is an electronically-controlled set-up which automatically directs torque to the rear axle when it detects slippage, ensuring decent traction when the going gets a bit slippery.

In normal road conditions, the car defaults back to front-wheel drive mode, which helps cut fuel consumption and emissions. Which means you don't have to do anything except steer! The car easily coped with my actions and I felt totally in control – as I did when driving it through mud-strewn and flooded roads in January.

The car was the last addition to the revised Insignia range which hit our roads late last year. Like the rest of the revised Insignia range, the Country Tourer has the latest round of updates which have made this mid-sized Vauxhall one of the best-riding cars in its class.

Better

Damper and anti-roll bar settings have been revised for better ride and control, while the electronic power steering system has been reprogrammed for better feel. Noise, vibration and harshness levels have also been reduced.

The 20mm of additional ride height also helps when tackling off-road tracks, although it's worth remembering the approach and departure angles are still a little shallow, so it's best not to get stuck into any terrain which looks a bit too rough.

The Country Tourer gets two of the best engines in the Insignia line-up. Both are punchy 2.0-litre CDTI units, a 163PS variant with start/stop and a muscley 195PS BiTurbo unit. The 163PS engine is available with either a six-speed manual or six-speed automatic transmission, and the BiTurbo comes with the automatic gearbox only.

Despite its 0-62mph time of 9.9 seconds and 130mph top speed, the Country Tourer BiTurbo can still achieve 42.8mpg on the combined cycle, with CO2 emissions of just 174g/km.

It certainly looks a capable beast too, with its signature Griffin grille, which is now wider and deeper, making the front styling distinctively Vauxhall. There's coloured protective cladding on the side sills and lower body sections, which givs the wheel-arches a more pronounced, flared look.

Build quality is good and inside there's a high level of finish, with a dashboard computer display usefully mimicking the central console.

However the selection process for the many displays available is a little confusing and I was stuck in the wrong display for a time. I had to park up and practice going between each before cracking the 'code'.

I also have to mention the excellent sound system, a must for a music fan like me.

Another plus for me was the nifty electric boot lift which made putting shopping bags in so easy. There was no dumping the bags on to soggy ground and fiddling with a catch.

Joining other Vauxhall 4x4s including the Mokka, Antara and a new Movano all-wheel drive van, the Country Tourer is the Luton-based manufacturer's latest entry into the growing D-segment crossover sector.

With ever-worsening British winters, there has been increased demand from customers wanting the robustness of an SUV combined with the convenience of a tourer body shape.

"The Insignia Country Tourer is perfect for a winter holiday, on snowy roads, or simply when the going gets tough," said Stuart Harris, Vauxhall's head of carline brand. "Even on urban roads its robust looks give it strong stand-out appeal." It is also, as I found, a very comfortable car for normal day-to--day use, with the added security of all-wheel drive for when the going gets a little tough.

You can choose between two trim levels, Country Tourer, priced from £25,349 to £29,709 on the road, and Country Tourer Nav, priced from £26,499 to £30,859 on the road.

Crucially, entry-level Insignia Country Tourer Nav pricing undercuts that of key D-segment crossover rivals.

Audi heralds future of driving

By Sharon Walters

This is no science fiction tale, driverless cars are coming, although that may be some years ahead. They will be safer and more reliable than cars of today.

You will get in, programme where you are going and the car will do the rest even on the busiest of roads.

Today we already have cars that 'automatically' operate certain controls. Pay enough and you can get cars that switch on the lights, go up to main beam and then dip if something's coming in the opposite direction. Windscreen wipers will flash on to keep your screen clear. Audible alarms will come on if you are wandering across the centre of the road, sensors can brake your car if you get too close to the vehicle in front. Further safety systems will switch in if you start to lose control and try and keep you out of trouble. And so it goes on.

The ability to take away the steering and give a computer full control of your four wheels is already there but there are still hoops to jump through to get it on the road.

In the meantime we can enjoy those cars that take a lot of the strain of getting from A to B. But, we need to take care that we actually remain in control as all the gizmos can only protect you so far – at present.

One car on the market that does most of this is Audi's scorching hot RS7 quattro. In fact I can say that at times during a recent test, I felt I was already driving remotely. The car didn't really want to have me interfering in what it wanted to do. It was quite happy letting me sit behind the wheel and appear to be in charge.

Let's start with what's under the bonnet and at the heart of this wolf in sheep's clothing. And that is a V8 4.0 litre TFSI with 560 bhp struggling to get out. A lot of power which means performance is mighty. There is no way you can let this take its head and remain anywhere near legal. It's rather like riding a powerful horse – you have to constantly keep a tight hand on the reins to prevent it running away.

The RS7 will get from 0-62mph in 3.9 seconds and on an airfield where I took it for a bit of a sprint, it blasted through 100mph without a toss of its mane and was fast approaching 140mph before I eased off. There was still so much power trying to get out, it really was a struggle to use those reins.

Intelligent

The gearbox delivers quick changes and is intelligent enough when left in 'Drive' to give seamless push at any speed. Switch to manual mode and there is a slight delay in changes but nothing to spoil 'normal' driving.

Grip levels are extremely high and this is where I did feel I was being driven even though I was behind the wheel. Hitting prolonged, slower corners when pushing on, you can feel the rear sports differential doing exactly what it should and helping to fight centrifugal force under hard cornering. And that felt as if I had no participation in what was happening. The grip's there but you have build up trust that the car will respond to your guidance. It's almost as if it's saying go on do what you have to but I can manage quite well thank you.

When you are not pressing on the engine uses selective cylinder de-activation to turn it into a four-cylinder which boosts the official economy figure to a 28.8mpg.

'It's like riding a powerful horse – you have to constantly keep a tight hand on the reins to prevent it running away'

But I doubt it achieves that. Expect low 20s for the bulk of driving and when pushed expect 17 to 18mpg.

Aside from the engine doing the driving it also has all the automatic controls. The central information system will even warn you when fuel is getting too low and offer to automatically guide you to the nearest fuel stop.

On the comfort front the seats are supportive and hold you in just the right place. UK RS7s get air springs as standard but my test car also had the £10,725 option of a dynamic package which includes top speed restriction, ceramic brakes (superb, as I found), dynamic steering and sports suspension with dynamic ride control which gives a firmer set up and one which I prefer. That may seem pricey but if you can afford the £82, 010 basic price, then an extra £10,000 is neither here nor there. As is the £6,300 Bang and Olufsen Advanced Sound System.It's juke box facility is almost limitless in capacity and there's also a six CD changer..

As for enviro friendliness it isn't terribly green with CO2 emissions: 229g/km and the VED band comes in at L - £815 first year, £475 thereafter.

If you want, this car can be driven sedately but it's not really intended for that. It's meant to be pushed and enjoyed, even though you may have to battle to convince it who is the master.

Polo gets a major update as it aims to top the class

By David Banner

Class and understatement has done the business for the Polo to date but Volkswagen clearly felt a little more substance was required. In the face of some formidable rivals, it has attempted to drag the Polo to the top of the supermini pile with some well-chosen updates to engines and equipment.

The Polo is all about understated refinement or, to put it another way, conspicuously not trying too hard to impress.

The oily bits under the bonnet have come in for some attention with this update to the fifth-generation car. The Polo now features a range of EU6-compliant engines offering fuel efficiency improvements of up to 23 per cent over the old units. Petrol options are two three-cylinder 1.0-litre MPI units with 60 or 75PS, two 1.2-litre four-cylinder TSI engines with 90 or 110PS and a 1.4-litre TSI engine with cylinder deactivation (ACT), with power increased by 10PS to 150PS. Should you prefer to go diesel, there are now two three-cylinder 1.4-litre TDI engines, with either 75 or 90PS.

Safety has been one area where the Polo scores very highly and all models now get a hill hold function and an automatic post-collision braking system which brakes the vehicle after a collision to reduce kinetic energy significantly, thereby minimising the chance or consequences of a second impact.

The suspension and chassis are left largely as was, which means you can expect safe and predictable handling with ride quality a little skewed towards the firm-ish end of things.

Exterior changes are ultra-subtle, with sharper creases on the redesigned front bumper and grille and the addition of a chrome line which separates the front fog lights. Optional LED headlamps are a first in the supermini sector and have a distinctive light signature. Move round to the back and you'll spot revised tail lights anda smarter rear bumper, while Volkswagen has introduced no fewer than five fresh designs for the alloy wheels. The Golf-lite styling theme has been retained and the Polo remains a sharp looker.

Redesigned

Drop inside and the instrument panel has been redesigned, as has the steering wheel. The centre console has also been given a mild makeover with heating and ventilation controls now easier to operate. Soft touch plastics and subtle aluminium detailing are the order of the day but the cabin is notably less austere than before. There's a 280-litre boot which increases to 952-litres when the rear seats are folded down.

Prices start at just over £11,000 for the Polo S. This gets a six-speaker stereo with five-inch colour touch screen, SD card reader, DAB radio and USB and AUX-in connections. There's also a height-adjustable driver's seat, illuminated vanity mirrors, cup holders and stylish 'gloss black' interior highlights.

It probably won't surprise you to learn that the S A/C model adds manual air conditioning for an extra £700-odd. Moving up to SE trim brings features like a bigger touch screen, 15in alloy wheels and manual air conditioning, while five-door models get electric rear windows. The SE Design model focuses on cosmetics, with 16in wheels, a black gloss radiator grille, dark-tints for the tail lights and rear windows, plus ritzier fabrics and illuminations inside.

Above that, there are SEL and BlueGT models, the latter getting 17in alloy wheels and 15mm lower sport suspension, while it's distinguished visually with its unique body styling kit, sports seats with Alcantara bolsters and a black roof lining. An XDS electronic differential lock for improved traction and handling is standard, as is cruise control and a driver alert system. The Polo GTI is available too, offered with a choice of either manual or DSG gearbox. Full-LED headlights will also become available across the range.

Bargain

Somewhat surprisingly, there's only one engine in the whole Polo line up which emits less than 100g/km of carbon dioxide and that's the 90PS 1.4-litre TDI diesel, which opens at over £14,500 in SE trim. A better bargain is the 1.0-litre petrol engine which can't match the diesel's 83.1mpg fuel consumption figure but will nevertheless squeeze 60.1 miles out of a gallon of 95 RON.

The more powerful 75PS version of this engine isn't going to send you to the wall either, recording 58.9mpg. Emissions for these two 1.0-litre units are 106 and 108g/km respectively. The £2,200 difference in price between the petrol and diesel engines means you'd need to do over 100,000 miles before you saw the diesel's price premium back in terms of fuel savings.

The 1.2-litre TSI petrol unit is a great compromise between economy and effervescence, with a tiny turbocharger boosting power to 90PS. Even here, you'll get 60.1 miles per gallon, exactly the same as the entry-level 60PS 1.0-litre, with identical 106g/km carbon emissions.

If I had to identify the most attractive buy in the Polo range, it would probably be this powerplant, mated to the DSG gearbox if you're not too cash-strapped.

French firm's cousin from Romania is a workhorse with energy

By David Banner

THERE'S something missing from the interior of the Dacia Logan MCV, a little pair of nippers that pinch a bit of vulnerable flesh every time you find something that's not up to the build quality of, say, an Audi.

At the same time as you pinch yourself, the radio should announce loudly; 'this whole car costs £8,595; less than some rich people spend upgrading the brakes on their own cars.'

That's perfectly true (look at a Bentley price list for proof). Then check out the practicalities of this Romanian-built member of the extended Renault clan, recently arrived on our shores with a mission to put us into highly affordable cars.

The Logan MCV (for Maximum Capacity Vehicle, apparently) is a no-nonsense load lugger built for the man or woman who gives little for the Joneses next door but knows a bargain when it parks in front of them.

A little shorter than a Focus Estate, it packs more load space than the Ford with the rear seats flat, or folded. Nearly as much room, in fact, as you'll find in the back of that staple of the antiques dealers' trade, a Volvo V70 estate.

Walk down to the other end of the Logan and, if it's the car tested here, you'll discover an engine so on trend in design terms it's also found in the newest version of the Renault Clio and shares its layout with the latest thinking of everyone from Ford to BMW.

Pleasure

It comes in the shape of a diminutive petrol engine with only three cylinders and a mere 898cc to do the work. It's a lively, gently humming peach of a thing to drive behind and makes this workaday machine a surprising pleasure to point down a challenging road.

Other power units are available; a 1.2 litre petrol that's longer in the tooth but cheaper (from £6,995) or a more economical, but dearer, 1.5 litre diesel, from £9,595. This latter unit promises genuine fuel economy, but you'd need to drive a lot of miles to pull back the dearer purchase price.

The older petrol engine makes sense if low cost is all, and it might well be in a car that comes as cheap as a Logan. Do try the newer, smaller engine though, if you enjoy the business of driving. Not everyone does.

And so back to quality. If it really is skin deep, the Logan earns only a mid-table score. It even looks a simple, unadorned design from the outside and although the interior might promise long life from an array of black on black plastic, the wow factor doesn't get a look in.

But remember, this is a car built for roads much rougher than it will meet in our part of the world, so it's tough where toughness matters.

Extended

Building simple helps keep things going in the longer term.

Dacia offers extended warranties for added peace of mind; £395 to stretch to five years or 60,000 miles or £850 for seven years or 100,000 miles of peace of mind.

Show the Logan a bumpy road and it won't cosset like a dearer machine. It also makes more noise when the eager engine pulls you up to a motorway cruise. But neither element is so intrusive you won't forget about them on your second day of ownership.

By then you'll be appreciating that a cheap car can still have the essentials on board, and a bit more too. Ambiance trim sits in the middle of the range and comes with electric front windows, remote central locking and a radio and CD player.

You'll need an extra £1,200 for a Laureate that adds air conditioning, alloy wheels, cruise control, trip computer, heated door mirrors and electric rear windows.

Popular Corolla is year's top seller

The Toyota Corolla claimed the world's best seller status in 2013, with internal data confirming 1.22 million recorded sales.

It's evidence of the enduring popularity of a name-plate which has been going strong since 1966, amassing a record 40.72 million cumulative sales by the end of February this year.

Of course it's not just a single car that's achieved this feat, but a model range which has regularly changed with the times to give customers exactly what they want, right at the heart of the market.

The appeal of the latest generation Corolla is proving particularly strong, helping it post a five per cent year-on-year increase in sales across 150 countries and regions worldwide.

Even though the Corolla name has not been part of Toyota's UK line-up since 2007, more than half a million were sold here from the mid-1960s and almost 200,000 are still on the road today.

The 2013 figures have been calculated by Toyota Motor Sales in the USA using independent Polk new vehicle registration data from IHS Automotive, which captures 96 per cent of global new vehicle volumes, confirming Corolla is the world's best-selling vehicle model for 2013 with global registrations of 1,098,524 units.

This figure includes Corolla saloon and other variations bearing the Corolla name, such as Corolla Axio, Corolla Altis and Corolla EX trim levels of the Corolla saloon sold in Japan and other world markets. The Corolla-badged Fielder and Rumion hatchbacks are also included.

BREW
Kenneth Thomas

Formerly from Hednesford, more recently resided in London and Spain.

It is with great sadness that the Family announce that Ken passed away aged 76 years, on April 23, 2014, following a short illness.
The Funeral will be held on Friday, May 2, 2014, at the City of London Crematorium, Aldersbrook Road, Greater London, E12 5DQ.

A Memorial will be held more locally at a later date, yet to be confirmed.

A beloved Husband, Dad, Grandad and Great-Grandad

We shall miss you forever but we won't be apart, Family is for always, one special heart, life was an adventure, lived to the full, time spent with you, always fun, never dull.

Memories to treasure, more precious than gold, of a wonderful man, to young to get old.

Our hearts may be broken but smiles will appear, to remember with love that you 'can't hang about here'.

Thank you for all the happy times.

You couldn't have been more loved.

BROADBENT
Elaine Dorothy

Of Cannock.

Passed away peacefully on April 18, 2014, aged 74 years.

She was the dear Mother of Hazel and Neil, and will always be remembered by her Family and Friends.

Her Funeral Service will take place at Stafford Crematorium, on Wednesday, May 7, 2014 at 11am.

Family flowers only but donations would be appreciated for St Giles Hospice or Marie Curie and may be sent to

EDWARDS
Phyllis
Mom

Passed away peacefully April 15, 2014.

We knew we had to lose you as the days were slipping by, we tried so hard to help you and so hard not to cry.

We sat beside your bedside and held your hand with love, we stroked your head with tenderness and prayed to God above.

Mom

Kiss her every day dear Lord and when you see her smile, tell her that we think of her and miss her all the while.

Forever in our hearts.

Barbara and Peter.

Grandma

Those we love don't go away, they walk beside us every day, unseen, unheard, but always near, still loved, still missed and very dear.

Love, Anthony, Natasha, Lauren, Stephen and Luke.

XXXX

Grandma

We never will forget you, so sadly missed you'll be, sleep soundly Granny Green Stockings, you're at peace finally.

Nicky, Mik, Brody and Freya.

R.I.P.

March 27, 2014.

Bryan and Maggie and Family, Jill and her Family and Michael and Marilyn and Family would like to thank our Family and also our Friends for their kind messages of sympathy and their support during this very sad time.

We would also like to express our gratitude to the Staff at Stafford Hospital in Accident and Emergency, The Acute Medical Ward and especially to Ward 1 for the excellent care given and the compassion shown to our Mother during her illness.

Special thanks to Revd. Kate Cook for her invaluable help and guidance with the Funeral Arrangements and also to members of St. Paul's Methodist and United Reformed Church, Rugeley for their many kindness. We would also like to thank William Emery and Sons Funeral Directors, Stafford, for making the Funeral and Interment arrangements. Thank you to Lisa Perry of Fine Dining Solutions, Stafford for the excellent catering arrangements following the Funeral Service.

We would like to thank everyone for paying their respects at the Funeral Services at St. Paul's Methodist and United Reformed Church Rugeley and at Stafford Crematorium. Thank you all for your donations to Parkinson's UK. As a result of your generosity £345 has been forwarded to the Society.

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer:

1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with it's Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree.

Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

make every day amazing

If you are passionate about people, committed and driven to 'make every day amazing' you could be just what we are looking for to work in our NEW, and EXISTING extra care housing schemes based in South Staffordshire and Cannock. You will form part of a professional, dynamic team delivering housing management, care, support and well-being services that enable our residents to remain independent. You will need to be flexible, committed and professional in your approach to work to ensure the highest standards of customer service and quality provision are upheld.

If this sounds like you, we have the following roles available:

Housing & Enablement Officer
South Staffordshire
Up to £9.00 per hour 21/28 hours per week

Key tasks:-
- Basic housing management
- Support planning and delivery
- Planning and supporting delivery of activities
- Supporting volunteers

Nights Team Leader
South Staffordshire
Up to £9.00 per hour 30 hours per week

Key Tasks:-
- Managing night team and night rota
- Monitoring quality and performance
- Providing personal care
- General administration tasks

Care & Support Workers (days/waking nights)
South Staffordshire
Up to £7.96 per hour (dependent upon qualifications) Flexible hours

- Providing personal care and support to our customers
- Identifying and reporting changes in customers needs
- Administering medication, and maintaining accurate records

Closing date: 5pm on Wednesday 7th May Interviews commence Monday 12th May

ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 - SECTION 14(1)(A) AND THE MOTORWAY TRAFFIC (ENGLAND AND WALES) REGULATIONS 1982-REGULATION 16(2) THE M6 TOLL (SLIP ROADS) (TEMPORARY PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC) ORDER 2014

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Secretary of State for Transport intends to make an Order on the M6 Toll Motorway in the County of Staffordshire and the City of Birmingham to allow safety fence, drainage and street lighting maintenance work to be carried out.

1. the effect of the Order will be to close, in phases, various lanes of the slip road leading –
   a) from the southbound carriageway of the M6 Toll at M6 Toll Junction T3;
   b) from the northbound carriageway of the M6 Toll at M6 Toll Junction T4;
   c) to the northbound carriageway of the M6 Toll at M6 Toll Junction T4;
   d) to the northbound carriageway of the M6 toll at M6 Toll Junction T6;
   e) from the northbound carriageway of the M6 Toll leading to the M6 Toll Motorway Service Area at Norton Canes;
   f) from the northbound carriageway of the M6 Toll to its junction with the slip road leading to the southbound carriageway of the M6 Toll at M6 Toll Junction T6; and allow traffic to run on the hard shoulder.
2. close the slip road leading –
   a) from the southbound carriageway of the M6 Toll at M6 Toll Junction T6;
   b) from the southbound carriageway of the M6 Toll at M6 Toll Motorway Service Area at Norton Canes;
   c) from the northbound carriageway of the M6 Toll at M6 Toll Junction T8;
   d) from the southbound carriageway of the M6 Toll at M6 Toll Junction T3;
3. impose a 50 miles per hour speed restriction on the lengths of the M6 Toll described above in 1. a) b) c) d) e) and f);

Work will be carried out overnight in phases, between 21:00 hours and 06:00 hours and is expected to start on Tuesday 27 May 2014 and continue for two weeks. The Order will come into force on Tuesday 20 May 2014.

Vehicles being used for police, fire brigade or ambulance purposes will be exempt from the speed restriction and closures. Vehicles being used for special forces purposes will be exempt from the speed restriction, and vehicles being used in connection with the works or by a traffic officer will be exempt from the closures. Diversion routes via M6 Toll Junctions T4 and T7, A5, A5195, M6 Junction 12, A4061, A460, A446 and A38 will be signed.

Lambert ready to take flak for team

PAUL LAMBERT says he will take all the flak to protect his Villa players from criticism.

The manager is prepared to shield the squad from the worst of the jibes after fans called for his head on Saturday.

Villa lost 4-1 at Swansea to leave them three points above the Premier League relegation zone with three games left.

"We've never shied away from it and you have to step up to the plate. I'm the one who is the manager of the football club and I'm proud of it," he said.

"But it's my job to protect the lads.

"They are the ones who go and play the game and come Saturday we're going to need the supporters."

"The players know the expectancy level of the football club. It's huge. They will take it on board but we need the fans to roar us on next Saturday."

Despite supporter unrest Lambert, though, believes they will back the team during Saturday's final home game with Hull with Villa desperate for a win.

He said: They'll get right behind us. I don't have a problem with that."

Mighty Oak lift the Premier League title

Cannock chase Football League
Ron Terry Cup Final

TALBOT pulled off yet another great team performance to beat Victoria 4-0 and lift the Ron Terry Cup.

This was Talbot's second cup final victory over Victoria in 12 days. Don Scragg bagged a couple with Luke Farley and Man of the Match Ched Degville adding one each on a rain soaked evening. Both teams are now left to fight it out for the title.

Premier League

Congratulations go out to Ridware Oak who became champions of the Cannock Chase League with a 9-0 beating of Dynamo Lamb while the only team who could catch them, Brereton Social Lion, went down 1-0 to Hawkins Sports.

Both Morgan Hurley and Joe Murphy scored four goals leaving player/manager Richard Knight to complete the greatest day in their history. A second half goal from Ryan Bradshaw helped Hawkins Sports to climb off the bottom by beating Brereton Social Lions 1-0 but only after holding on as they went down to nine men with 10 minutes to go.

Division Four

Congratulations to Hen House who were crowned champions after beating Prairie Farm 5-0. Jack Connolly's two goals and a goal each for Simon Traat, Jon Cox and Olly Wooton got the party started.

Pied Piper leap frog Pear Tree into second place after beating them 6-3 to put them in contention for the runners up spot.

The Nest fought back from two down to produce their best team performance of the season to win 7-2. A hat-trick a-piece for Ryan Tongue and Adam Tonks and a special mention for 53 year old manager John Price who played in goal for the day and scored from penalty spot in his last season in the Chase League.

Cup Finals

The next cup finals for this coming weekend:-

Friday May 2 – Division One Cup Final at Walsall Wood F.C. - 7.30pm k/o
Nelson Inn v Poets Corner

Sunday May 4 – Cannock Chase Cup at Stafford Town F.C. - 2. 30pm k/o
Poets Corner v Ridware Oak

Stafford A on road to do the double

Lichfield Tuesday League
Streetly 151 Stafford Road A 174

STAFFORD Road A travelled to Streetly hoping to do the double over them.

They started well with the first three cards of the night going in their favour as Trevor Jeynes bowled well, winning (21-3) Hayley Scott (21-9) and Ken Fencott (21-19) coming off winners.

The whole did well on a tricky green, with Jacquie Squires getting the captain's vote for player of the match winning 21-16. John Platt (21-16), Brian Arnold (21-12) and Peter Bellanti (21-14) all won their matches to ensure Stafford Road won by 23 shots.

Stafford Road B 196
Rugeley Progressive 120

After losing away from home last week, Stafford Road were hoping for a home win, which they did with a dominating victory by 76 shots.

All the team bowled well. The winners were Steve Sheldon (21-4), Terry Darby (21-14), Gary Purchase (21-14), Trevor Kemp (21-7), Michael Dickerson (21-9), Diane Jones (21-6) and Stan Fencott (21-13).

Darlaston League (Saturday) Stafford Rd B 184 Yale 176.

Rugeley 1st 48 Essington 1st 0

RUGELEY welcomed Essington to Hagley Fields for a crucial game of rugby. For Rugeley it was a must-win game.

The game started with both teams seeming to be evenly matched with both ability and stamina.

But the home side had a target of four tries to achieve, and 20 minutes into the game up popped David Bagnall to run in the first of a handful of scores from Rugeley.

The home side upped their game play and the visitors could not hold the raging bulls of Rugeley.

Within five minutes Martyn Bentley had added another five points on the home side's score card.

Rugeley continued to pile on the pressure with the forwards pushing and pushing resulting in Essington folding under the onslaught.

Fault

The home side put together some amazing set plays with the forwards playing as a single unit and the backs receiving all the ball without fault, allowing Luke Paggett right on the stroke of half-time to add more points to the score card.

Even though the rain came down the visitors upped their game and took the fight right to the heart of the Rugeley pack. But the visitors were unable to break the home side down.

Kevin Birt broke free and ran a great 25-metre run for the try line, only to be brought down by the opposition. But not before he was able to off-load the ball to Bentley who scored his second try of the afternoon.

Rugby

David Bagnall ran in his second try of the day to make the score 34-0 with only 10 minutes left.

Sam Cotter picked up and embarked on a run from the centre field to the try line without any opposition allowing a score right under the posts, with the conversion added.

The game was not over, with a last flurry of play from the visitors, Rugeley looked under a little pressure but they were not about to let the visitors score at such a late stage and up popped Chris Dynda to run the ball to the try line and with the conversion, Rugeley ended the game 48-0 the victors and 2013/14 Midlands 5 North West League Champions.

Captain Nathan Homer said: " I feel very humbled to be the captain of a great season with great lads and a totally committed squad of players winning this league is the pinnacle of my carrier at Rugeley Rugby Club."

The season Is not over yet for Rugeley 1sts as this Sunday May 4 they travel to Stoke Rugby Club to play the Final of the Owen Cup against St Leonards.

Rugeley players on the move to get the ball up field on the day they would become champions

Two wins on trot for second XI

Cannock 2nds (103-5) beat Lichfield 2nds (101) by 5 wickets

CANNOCK made it two out of two to take their place as early leaders of Staffs Clubs Premier Division A.

Heavy overnight rain saw the game start an hour late and reduced to 42 overs. Winning the toss and fielding, Cannock's bowlers took charge with Nick Bell (4-27), Dan Wood (3-8), Jamie Probert (2-20) and Tom Bull (1-24) sharing the wickets.

Batting was never easy as Cannock slipped to 27-3 but a fine 46no from skipper Matt Davenport saw them home by five wickets.

The 3rds and 4ths both had an off day as games at Tamworth and Beacon respectively were washed out.

Walsall put out in the first round

Fred Rowley Colts Tournament

OLD Halesonians, Burntwood, Aston Old Eds and Kidderminster are through to the semi-finals after some thrilling encounters. Kidderminster beat Walsall 25-21 in a tense contest that saw Walsall dominate for long periods. Jordan Lay kicked a penalty and converted a try after a fine solo effort by Connor McGuirk.

Veseyans U-13s 17
Walsall U-13s 55

Walsall produced one of their best performances of the season in overcoming a previously unbeaten Veseyans team. The forwards secured good possession and with some strong direct running the visitors were always an attacking force.

Dinner date with Joe and Shavers

FORMER heavyweight rivals Joe Bugner and Earnie Shavers are coming to Wolverhampton to headline a sportsman's dinner at the Novotel Hotel later this month.

Arguably two of the best boxers at their weight never to win world titles will recount their lives, times and tales of their careers on Saturday May 17.

Bugner holds a razor-thin victory over the late Henry Cooper.

The triple national of Hungary, Britain and Australia is a former British, Australian, Commonwealth and European champion, also competing for WBA and WBC world titles.

He twice went the distance with the Muhammad Ali, the second with the two world belts on the line. He's also shared a ring with Joe Frazier, Frank Bruno and Shavers, losing to him on cuts.

Shavers had Ali in all sorts of trouble when they boxed for the WBA and WBC belts in 1977, battering him towards the end of the fight.

Tickets are £500 for a table of eight people, which includes a four-course meal. For more information, call Gary Bate on 07815 512 623 or John Harpin on 07742 799 562.

Wolves players had lost pride – Sir jack

Football

WOLVES president Sir Jack Hayward has hit out at the players responsible for the club's fall from grace, while hailing Kenny Jackett for turning their fortunes around.

Jackett has overseen an immediate return to the Championship after successive relegations had left Wolves languishing in League One.

And Sir Jack, who is in the Midlands this week after travelling from his home in the Bahamas, has revealed his heartache at watching the club's fall from grace.

The 90-year-old, the club's owner between 1990 and 2007, believes players had lost pride in the shirt and were only interested in their earnings.

"It was terrible," he said. "When you see a team which isn't really trying, just picking up their wages and no longer giving their all, no longer having pride in wearing the old gold and black, it's very bad."

Sir Jack pointed to young centre-back Danny Batth as epitomising the new-found spirit of the Jackett regime. Under Jackett, who was appointed head coach last summer, Batth and other young players have been given the chance, while big earners like Roger Johnson and Jamie O'Hara have been either pushed to the side or moved on.

When asked if the club can now make it back-to-back promotions and return to the Premier League under Jackett, Sir Jack replied: "I don't see why not, he's done a superb job in League One."

He added: "The dream is automatic promotion back into the Premier League but if that can't be then at least the play-offs."

Sir Jack financed the redevelopment of Molineux and the club's triumphant return to the top flight in 2003 after almost two decades away.

He also paid for the club's Compton training ground, which bears his name. And though he now spends most of his time abroad, his legacy is not lost on coach Jackett.

"He laid the foundations for things with a fantastic training centre down at Compton Park," said Jackett. "Generations of Wolves supporters and players will be grateful to him for that."

Batth added: "The training ground really does inspire young players."

Lockmen win with five-goal thumping

Bromyard 1 Willenhall 5

THE Lockmen comfortably saw off Bromyard, completing an easy double and condemning their hosts to bottom spot.

Simon Laidley and Eddie Wilson both went close before the latter broke the deadlock on eight minutes.

He was played through from the lef and raced on to slide the ball under veteran ex-Kiddy keeper Darren Steadman.

Steve Booth was called upon to touch a fierce shot wide before Alex Carling headed onto a post.

Town made the start to the second half they needed when Laidley was denied at the expense of a 50th minute corner before Mattie Dorgan poked home after his initial header was blocked.

Joe Wood then robbed Mikey Clarke to halve the deficit on the hour

But two minutes later any nerves were settled as a Laidley ball split the defence and Jamel Fuller sidestepped the keeper before rolling home.

Wilson got the fourth and the fifth followed when Wilson's cross to Fuller saw his effort deflected home.

Steadman was dismissed for comments to the referee with 10 minutes left.

Chasetown 0 Coalville Town 3

IT was a game that was all about Coalville – with them needing to win and requiring Belper to beat or draw at home to Halesowen Town for the Ravens to lift the league title.

The opening few minutes reflected that with the visitors looking keen to make sure they did their bit and they kept Chasetown much at arm's length.

Football

The Scholars, understandably, had one eye on the Walsall Senior Cup Final and not getting injured or suspended but they owed their fans a good send-off for the final home game of the season.

News filtered through that Halesowen had taken the lead and not long after, Coalville broke the deadlock.

The refereeawarded what appeared a harsh penalty decision when Grant Beckett tackled Glyn Cotton.

Cam Stuart made no mistake from the spot with a kickinto the bottom corner beyond the reach of Ryan Price, who went the right way.

He made a great save to deny a Jed Davies header and it was only a matter of time before Coalville increased their lead and never looked likely to surrender it.

Six minutes before half-time, Anthony Carney twisted and turned and finished superbly.

Nine minutes after the break it was game over as Callum Woodward made it 3-0 and from then it was only a question of what was happening at Belper.

Davies struck the post, before visiting Ravens fans burst into the first of many choruses of "There's only one Stephen Sutton" which were richly applauded by the home fans.

Chasetown's only effort on target all game was a superb Danny Bragoli header kept out well by keeper Sean Bowles but even that was offside and would not have counted.

The scoreline came through that Halesowen were 2-0 up and, barring a dramatic comeback from Belper, the Yeltz were league champions.

Coalville rang the changes with three substitutions to protect players for their play-off game on Tuesday night.

From Chasetown's perspective, the season had ended disappointingly – ending in 12th place after finishing in the play-off finals last campaign.

But, if Scholars fans had left the ground disappointed with the result and the performance they were full of praise for Coalville's visiting support who raised £400 for Stephen Sutton and Teenage Cancer Trust while over £200 was raised for St Anne's Church, Chasetown in a bucket collection.

Gr-eight game for Sporting

Bromyard Town 0
Sporting Khalsa 8

KHALSA turned on the style for the last league game of the season by demolishing home side, Bromyard. Liam Hughes bagged four, taking the league top scorer's tally to 53.

Sporting finally broke down Bromyard after 20 minutes as Hughes scored two quick goals then a great individual goal from Kieron Northwood gave a three-goal advantage at half-time.

Hughes scored his hat-trick a few minutes after the restart. Jordon Uppal scored his first for Khalsa with a penalty.

There was a fourth for Hughes before late goals from Danny Blackwood and Ian Boswell Ellis.

Target Premier spot – Jackett

KENNY JACKETT says Wolves will be hungrier than ever as he told his team to target the Premier League.

The Molineux head coach has led Wolves back to the second tier at the first attempt after two relegations.

But the boss wants more and is demanding a Premier League return.

"I certainly think Wolves are going into the Championship in a lot more positive frame of mind, and a lot hungrier, than when they went into it two years ago,"he said.

"It won't be a lack of investment, or a lack of desire to try to get there – we'll just come from a different way.

"I'd suggest Wolves won't let that momentum slip by not investing and bringing players in.

"You need to set short-term goals and this has been the first step in our overall plan. Our aim is to get back to the Premier League when we come back in the summer"

He added: "We have to set realistic targets to try to get promoted again next year."

Jackett believes Wolves will continue to invest in hungry 'under the radar' players. "They'll be people who are up for making their name and wanting the challenge," he said.

Next season excites Sam

WOLVES captain Sam Ricketts has admitted he's so excited about the Championship he's having sleepless nights.

Ricketts will lead the team wearing the club's new Puma home strip – which includes black sleeves for the first time since the1990s – for the final game of the season on Saturday before lifting the League One trophy at the end of the game.

Kenny Jackett's champions need to win to set a points record for the third tier. But Ricketts is already looking forward to the next campaign.

"I couldn't sleep last night because I'm thinking about next season already," he said. "We want to push on and keep getting better and better. It's through excitement and how great this season has been."

The shirt costs £42 for adults and £30 for juniors.

No rest until we get record, says Edwards

Football

DAVE EDWARDS says Wolves aren't thinking of hitting the beaches just yet because they want the League One points record.

Edwards' ninth goal of the season helped Kenny Jackett's champions to a 1-1 draw away to Coventry on Saturday.

It put them on 100 points but they need to beat relegation-threatened Carlisle in their final game of the season on Saturday to claim the milestone of being the best third-tier team ever by claiming Charlton's 101-point milestone achieved in 2011-12.

Edwards, who has now bagged six goals in nine games and nine from just 21 starts, vowed Wolves will be at full throttle as they prepare to receive the trophy.

"No-one is thinking of the beaches just yet – we want that record in front of a sell-out crowd at Molineux and getting the trophy afterwards will be a great occasion to play in," said the Wales international.

"We don't need to be told but it's set up beautifully now.

"We still need three points for the record and we're at home in front of a full house on a good pitch so there will no excuses from us. Anyone who gets the chance to play in that game will want to do well.

"Hopefully we'll have a good week in training and everyone will be up for it on Saturday."

Edwards revealed his disappointment after his 84th-minute opener was cancelled out within 60 seconds by Danny Batth's own goal away in Northampton against the Sky Blues.

"We've talked about it before – we've had a tendency in the last couple of months of getting ahead then have a dodgy five minutes," he said.

Edwards converted after substitute Bakary Sako – who was celebrating his 26th birthday – spotted his late run into the box and delivered a superb cross for him to fully exploit.

And the 28-year-old insisted the Frenchman is a match-winner.

"It's moments like that which change games and he's a matchwinner," he said.

"To have someone like him coming off the bench is great and it's nice as an attacker to know that when he gets the ball, he's going to put it in a dangerous area."

PITMEN LOSE BUT MAKE PLAY-OFFS

Barrow AFC 1 Hednesford Town 0

A MUCH changed Hednesford Town side succumb to a 1-0 defeat in the final game of the regular Skrill North season following a controversial goal.

With a place in the play-offs already confirmed, manager Rob Smith decided to make a number of changes to his side as he looked to best utilise his squad.

Football

A solitary strike from the Barrow's Sam Sheridan in the first half proved the difference, although if it actually crossed the line was a major talking point.

Town started the better and they should have perhaps gone ahead inthe second minute when Charlie Anagho-Ntamark found room on the edge of the box but he dragged his effort wide.

Following a good save from debutant Town keeper Dale Reaney, the ball was only cleared as far as Sheridan, who unleashed a thunderous shot from 30 yards.

It hit the underside the bar and bounced down and seemingly away.

Town almost responded immediately when Michael Lennon slotted home under the advancing McMillan just 60 seconds later but his effort was ruled out for offside.

In the 33rd minute Barrow had a chance to make it 2-0 when Alex-Ray Harvey was through on goal but he blasted his effort over the bar.

Town had two half chances but Taylor's free kick was easily saved and Paul McCone had a header turned away.

The second half saw both sides with plenty of possession but doing little with it.

The closest Hednesford came was Anagho-Ntamark heading wide when inside the penalty area.

At the other end Sheridan saw a low driven effort strike Gareth Arnison and comfortable bounce up into the arms of Reaney.

As the game entered the final 10 minutes and with Guiseley winning 3-1 Hednesford knew that they couldn't afford to concede a second if they wanted to claim fourth places.

Players share in fan upset

JAMES Chambers says Walsall's players understand and share fans' frustrations at their late-season slump.

The Saddlers have won just twice in the last 17 games and are fighting to earn a top-10 finish after at one stage looking destined for the play-offs.

Defender Chambers understands why supporters are upset at the slide and says the frustrations are shared in the dressing room.

"I didn't hear it (the booing) but I can imagine the frustrations because we were obviously playing a side at the bottom of the league and did not perform as we should have done," he said." It is the frustration of being so nearly there but falling away.

"Hopefully we can push on, change a few little bits and maybe sustain the performances we have had in the early part of the season." Walsall's final game of the season is home to Colchester on Saturday.

Regis concerned on race campaign

ALBION legend Cyrille Regis said he fears an anti-racism social media campaign – inspired by Barcelona's Dani Alves – may detract from how serious it is.

The ex-Albion striker said: "The social media campaign does seem to help . But we shouldn't get away from the fact that this person was being racist."
